SUMMARY

Mahsa (Zhina) Amini, a young 22-year-old woman from Saqqez, Kurdistan was visiting Tehran, when she was taken into custody on Tuesday, September 13, 2022, by the Morality Police officers at the Haqqani metro station in Tehran. The reason for her arrest: not properly observing the strict Islamic dress code. Mahsa/Zhina was taken to the infamous detention center of Moral Security Police known as Vozara.

Shortly after Mahsa's arrest, she went into a coma with level three concussion, and her partially alive body was transferred to the intensive care unit of Kasra Hospital. Given the track record of the police and Guidance Patrols in mistreating the arrestees and similar previous incidents, with the believe that Mahsa was beaten during the arrest people were outraged.

Unpersuasive explanations given by the Central Command of the Islamic Republic Police Force (FARAJA) in defense of its actions regarding the death of Mahsa, the past performance of the police force, along with widespread dissatisfaction with the existence of a body called the Moral Security Police, fueled widespread protests in Iran.

The widespread protests sparked at the time Mahsa Amini was announced dead in front of Kasra Hospital on Argentina Street in Tehran, and then quickly spread to the streets despite the intimidating presence of Iran's security forces. The protests intensified after Mahsa's burial in a Saqqez cemetery. To the extent that after eighty-two days of nationwide protests between September 17, 2022, to December 7, 2022, they have spread to Iran's all 31 provinces, 160 cities, and 143 major universities.

The protests did not stay limited to Mahsa's death, it rather, quickly targeted the Iranian government's political and ideological foundations. These protests were violently quashed by the anti-riot police and Iran's militia force (Basij). teargas, pellets, and live ammunition were used in the repression of protestors. This widespread crackdown has led to the death of dozens of people and the wounding of hundreds of protestors.

Despite severe communication restrictions imposed by the Islamic Republic, this report attempts to give a clearer picture of the first 82 days of the protests between September 17, to December 7, 2022. It's worth mentioning at the time of this report the protests are still ongoing in various forms.

UNIQUE FEATURES OF THESE PROTESTS

- The protests analyzed in this report have unique characteristics that differentiate them from the protests of the last decade in Iran and at times even unprecedented in the life of the Islamic Republic.
- Contrary to most of the protests in recent years, the recent protest was not based on economic or environmental demands. Rather, political, and human rights demands were at the core of it.
- These protests were triggered by the death of a young, Kurdish and Sunni woman. Being female, Kurdish and Sunni are all grounds for gender, ethnic, and religious discrimination. Yet, the Iranian public showed a united front and disregarded all these categories that tend to divide people and instead displayed that collectively they can take a positive step forward.
- The Iranian youth, whose average age was estimated at 15 years of age by the law enforcement officials, have played a key role in the protests.
- An unprecedented solidarity has been formed between Iranians inside Iran and those in the diaspora.
- These protests put almost all classes of Iranian society into one unified group of people in support of the protesters. The urban middle class alongside the lower or upper classes in small and large urban areas, different ethnic groups, religious minorities, sexual minorities, and trade groups including teachers, workers, students, professors, artists, and athletes were integral to this united front. In the protests, we witnessed different businesses showing solidarity with the protesters by going on strikes.

- In terms of continuity, these protests can be considered among the longest continuous protests since the inception of the Islamic Republic of Iran.
- Because of the substantive and progressive demands of these protesters, the international community, especially celebrities in the fields of the arts, culture, and politics, became the voice of the Iranian people in an unprecedented way, and by disseminating information and taking various actions, they have attracted attention to what is going on in Iran.
- The demands of the protesters, which centered on the issue of women's rights, have indicated that Iran has a progressive and assertive society.
- One of the distinguishing features of these protests from the previous ones was unarmed protesters routinely confronting the security forces. There have been many scenes of protestors showing unity as they came together to prevent people from being taken into custody or by standing in front of the police who were equipped with full anti-riot gear. Public anger over the operation of the Moral Security Police and decades of meddling by this force in the most personal areas of women's lives was also a great motivating factor for the protestors to resist being subjugated by Iran's security apparatus.
- In addition to the street protests, there was cyber warfare going on between the opponents and supporters of the status quo. Numerous government sites were hacked, and the global solidarity propelled Mahsa Amini's hashtag, which became the first in the history of Twitter to record more than 284 million tweets.
- The government of Iran this time around gave more latitude to FARAHA (Iran's main law enforcement agency) to spearhead the repression of the street protests. The government also adopted alternative methods regarding controlling the communications; for example, they reduced the speed of internet rather than cutting it off completely, and they filtered certain sites.

- The media close to Iran's security apparatus tried to cover the protests in their own way by sending their reporters to the streets to present the news in a slanted way that is favorable to the government. More so these reporters have continuously given statistic on those that died during the protests, however most of these statistics were a lot lower than the actual numbers.
- The protests, which have lacked leadership and command-and-control, have shown that Iranian society, especially its younger generation, is determined to attain their basic human rights.
- Iran's ethnic groups, especially Kurdish and Baloch citizens, who are mostly adherents of the Sunni branch of Islam, occupy a special place in these protests. They also witnessed the bloodiest crackdowns in these protests.

THE PROTESTS

At the time when Iranian president Ebrahim Raisi spoke about human rights in his annual speech at the UN General Assembly, Iranian protesters took to the streets to protest the police brutality and discriminatory religious laws against women in Iran.

The angry people who only a few weeks before this incident had seen how Sepideh Rashno was arrested for speaking out against the mandatory hijab and how the government subsequently aired her coerced confessions on television and had seen the video of a mother pleading with Gashte Ershad (Morality Police Patrol/ Guidance Patrol) not to take her sick daughter into custody for wearing improper hijab once they learned of Mahsa Amini's death took to the streets in protest.

On September 17, the first sparks of these protests took place in Tehran, Sanandaj and Saqqez. Then the protests quickly reached other cities and different social groups and classes.

GEOGRAPHY OF THE PROTESTS

Thirty-one provinces have been the scenes of the protest in Iran from September 17 to December 7.

In the 82 days of protests examined in this report, a total of 160 cities from 31 provinces have become the scenes of protests 544 times (only protests with over 30 participants have been counted in this statistic). In the cases where the protesters did not find their way to the street, there was an overwhelming security presence in the area.

In addition to 544 mass street demonstrations, 143 universities protested on campus 615 times.

Human Rights Activists News Agency (HRANA) was able to verify that the following cities have held protests in the past 82 days, between September 17, to December 7th, 2022:

- Azerbaijan is awake, it supports Kurdistan
- Liberty is our right, Zhina (Mahsa) is our code word
- Poverty, corruption, and injustice; shame on this despotism
- Servitude, unemployment, forced hijab on women

CONCLUSION

Three weeks after Mahsa (Zhina) Amini's death, Iran's Medical Forensic Organization, published its pathology tests claiming that "her death has not been caused by blows to the head or any other vital organs of the body."

Forensic office's statement claims, "Based on hospital medical documents, the investigation of Computed Tomography (CT) Scan of the brain and lungs, the results of the physical examination of the body and autopsy, and the pathology tests, Mahsa's death was not caused by strikes to the head or the vital organs of the body."

The forensic added that due to the "underlying illness" of Mahsa Amini, "she did not have the necessary ability to withstand and adapt to the situation, therefore, under the circumstance, she suffered from a heart rhythm disorder and a drop in blood pressure, and subsequently, a decrease in the level of consciousness, which due to the ineffective cardio-respiratory resuscitation in the first critical minutes, let to her suffering a severe hypoxia resulting in brain damage."

In its statement, this governmental body claimed that "despite the return of cardiac function following the resuscitation of the emergency personnel, the respiratory support did not work" and despite being transferred to the hospital "she passes away on September 16 due to multi-organ failure (M.O.F) caused by cerebral hypoxia."

In response to this statement, Saleh Nikbakht, the lawyer for the Amini's family, told the media that the medical examiner's claim that Mahsa Amini's death was caused by a glandular surgery that was performed on her when she was eight is baseless, because the same surgeon who performed the surgery has said it cannot be the cause of her death. Other neurologists have refuted the Medical Forensic Organization's claim as well.

Mr. Nikbakht also called Mahsa Amini's "instant death" and the attempt to link it with "her childhood surgery or taking thyroid pills" nonsense and said how is it possible that Mahsa Amini, who "has not had any physical issues for 15 years, after being taken into custody by the Morality Police and spending an hour and a half at their headquarters, suddenly has a stroke, heart, and kidney failure and loses ninety-eight percent of her vital signs."

According to the lawyer of the Amini's family, Mahsa Amini's case "is in the investigation stage and has not yet been filed with the court."

The heads of branches of Iran's medical association, which is the highest professional and legal body for medical doctors in this country, have demanded a "clear pronouncement" of the cause of Mahsa Amini's death in an open letter, and at the same time, they have asked for an end to the violence against the protesters and for doctors to be allowed unfettered access to the injured in the protests.

These protests, besides the bloody consequences they had for the protesters, also exacted a heavy toll on the human rights violators as well. It also led to the unprecedented action of the United Nations Human Rights Council against Iran.

UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS COUNCIL AGAINST IRAN

The United Nations Human Rights Council, in a special meeting regarding the Islamic Republic's repression of the uprising across Iran, approved a resolution based on which an international fact-finding committee will be formed on probing Iran's protests.

Twenty-five members of the Human Rights Council voted in favor and six members voted against in the voting of this UN-affiliated body to approve this resolution on Thursday, November 24. Sixteen members also abstained.

Hours before, in the emergency meeting of the Council at the United Nations Headquarters in Geneva, the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights referred to the protests, cutting off the Internet and massive suppression of the protesters.

He also said that the investigations into the murder of Mahsa Amini were woefully inadequate and did not meet the standards of an impartial investigation.

Javaid Rehman, the UN Special Rapporteur on Human Rights in Iran, also mentioned referred to the attacks by the security forces and plainclothes officers on university campuses, the killing of underage protesters, the holding of show trials, coerced confessions, and the issuing of death sentences for protesters. He expressed grave concern about these developments.

In this meeting, representatives of other countries who were present demanded the lifting of restrictions and censorship on the media and journalists, as well as an end to the clamping down of civil rights activists in Iran.

The UN Human Rights Council meeting on the popular uprising in Iran came just two days after a similar meeting was held in the European Parliament.

In the meeting of the European Parliament, held to support the revolutionary uprising of the Iranian people, the representatives of the European Parliament demanded the designation of the entire IRGC in the list of terrorist organizations and the closing of the embassies of the Islamic Republic on the soil of the European Union.

HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE RECENT PROTESTS

Almost three months of nationwide protests in Iran has had many ups and downs and some important highlights that will be discussed in this section.

THE ATTACK ON THE SHARIF UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY

The students at the Sharif University of Technology have joined the uprising since the first days of popular protests sparked by the death of Mahsa (Zahra) Amini. Following the arrest of a number of Sharif University students by the security forces, on September 26, 2022, more than ten professors at this university went on strike in response to the arrest of these students, while supporting the nationwide protests, and they reiterated that they will not hold classes until the arrested students are released. Also, many students at the country's universities and this university refused to attend the classroom by publishing statements speaking out against the suppression of protests and the arrest of students.

On Sunday, October 2, following the previous announcement and tight security measures, the students at Sharif University once again started a protest rally. In this gathering, they chanted slogans such as “The student is aware”, “We don’t want a fortress-like university, we don’t want it”, “The imprisoned student should be freed”, “Death to the dictator”, “Women, life, liberty” and “We feel shame for our scoundrel Basiji (Islamic militia)”. As time passed by on Sunday night, the security forces, including “plainclothes officers” and “the Basij militia”, attacked Sharif University and closed the entrance doors of the university. These forces started shooting on the university campus and injured a number of students by firing bullets.

As the violence intensified, the students were directed to the university parking lot at the instruction of security and university presidents to leave, but they were surrounded by security forces and at least 30 to 40 of them were arrested. In a statement, the Islamic Association of Sharif University Students, while confirming this attack, pointed to the role of plainclothes officers in suppressing and arresting students. The statement says: “The plainclothes officers ambushed the students with batons, weapons, and motorcycles on the first and second floors of the parking lot and shot plastic bullets and pellets from close range, especially towards the girls, stop them from leaving and detain the students.” This association also announced that on Saturday night many measures were taken to install new cameras and telecommunication antennas at the main entrance of the university with the aim of identifying protesting students online.

The images of the violent treatment of students and their suppression quickly went viral on social media students pleaded for help from the public. A group of citizens showed up in front of this university to support them, but they were not spared from the tear gas attack. A large number of citizens in the streets leading to Sharif University caused heavy traffic on Azadi Street at the intersection of Yadgar Imam Highway in the early hours of the morning. As the crisis escalated that night, Mohammad Ali Zolfigol, the Minister of Science, Research, and Technology, came to this university. He accused the protesting students of “wasting the country’s treasure” and added: “If you don’t follow the law, you’ll have to pay a price for it, no kidding or playing games.”

The doors of the university were finally opened that night after the minister interceded and the students managed to leave the place safely.

The attack on the Sharif University of Technology, one of the most prestigious universities in Iran, reverberated both inside and outside Iran. The Union of Scientific Societies of Social Sciences of the country, more than 265 professors from different universities in Iran, five Nobel Prize winners, and 300 professors from top American universities issued separate statements denouncing the attacks on Sharif University and demanding the immediate release of the detained students.

In the meantime, President Ebrahim Raisi said in a special meeting about the attack on Sharif University: “The United States, MEK, and other enemies of the country tried to pursue their anti-Iranian and anti-revolutionary goals inside Sharif University, but the awareness of the professors and noble students at this university foiled their efforts. Thankfully, these efforts couldn’t be attributed to Sharif University. Ali Shamsipour, the spokesperson of the Ministry of Science, and Hamidreza Taraghi, a former member of the of the Islamic Consultative Assembly and a member of Islamic Coalition Party (Mutalefeh), also claimed: “No military forces entered the university. Some students were detained outside the campus while taking part in the protests. No one was detained inside the university.”

The protest and strike at Sharif University continued unabated after that incident. On October 22, male and female students had lunch in the dining hall of this university in protest of gender segregation. A day later, the security officials, accompanied by the Basij forces of this university, tried to prevent students from entering for lunch by setting up tables and chairs in front of the entrance. An effort that was foiled due to the continued protest of the students and their perseverance to enter the dining hall.

In this regard, on October 24, the Board of Trustees of the Sharif University of Technology issued a statement prohibiting students from eating in the dining hall due to the “damages caused to this student hall” and regarding the events of October 23 in this university added: “Students who played a key role in causing unrest will not be allowed to enter the university until further notice, and the disciplinary committee will deal with them.” In the following days, male and female students protesting this situation spread some tablecloths in the university yard and had their lunch next to each other by sitting on the ground.

NIGHTLY PROTESTS

Following severe crackdowns in the first weeks of the protests and the large presence of security forces in the streets as well as widespread arrests, those protesting in the streets resorted to more resourceful methods as a way of not being identified by the security forces. Among the most prevalent methods, one can mention chanting “night slogans” from behind the windows of houses and from rooftops. Most of these night slogans have taken place in residential complexes, with women playing a central role. The videos recorded from behind the windows of the houses show that residents are chanting two-part slogans, the second part of which is repeated by fellow neighbors to create synergy and a sense of camaraderie in the neighborhood as well as exploring new ways of communicating with each other.

The singing of the song “For...”, the most recognizable song of this movement, in the middle of the night, while gathering in residential complexes, has been another innovative form of night protest, among Iranian citizens. Iranian cities such as Tehran (neighborhoods of Naziabad, Amirabad, Ekbatan, Shariati, TehranPars, Karun, Jayhun, Geisha, Shamsabad, Parand, Kashani, SattarKhan, North and South Shahin, Gheytariyeh, Moniriyeh, Abazar, and Shahrak Chitgar), Rasht, Kermanshah, Saqqez, , Tabriz, Kamiyaran, Bandar Abbas, Urmia, Sanandaj (beltway area 25 and Vakil), Karaj, Dezful, Yazd, Jolfa, Marivan, Shiraz, and Mashhad are among the cities where these night protests have occurred as described above.

At the same time newer forms of public protests emerged, Iran's security began using new techniques to deal with people's night protests. Sending drones to neighborhoods to identify pockets of protests, shining green floodlights over the windows, and spraying a colored "cross" on the entrance of houses and residential complexes that were suspected of starting night chants are new methods of clamping down on the protests. The security forces also tried to silence the chanters by their sheer presence in the neighborhoods and intimidate the protesters. In several instances, it is reported that they have openly threatened the protesters using "loudspeakers"

On October 28, 2022, the security agents who were deployed in the area of Chitgar town of Tehran, fired tear gas and stun grenades at the windows and threatened the protestors with "execution" through the loudspeaker. According to several reports published on social media, during the night crackdowns, in one case, the house of one of the residents in the Nazi Abad neighborhood of Tehran also caught fire because of a tear gas being thrown inside the house by the security agents. Firing shots into the air, using tear gas and stun grenades in the neighborhoods, and targeting the windows of some residential apartment buildings in some parts of Tehran and other Iranian cities have also been reported. These have become prevalent methods of neutralizing people's nightly protests.

Additionally, on October 28 and 29, security agents with a greater presence than the previous nights in Ekbatan complex, broke doors, glass, security kiosks, elevators, etc., causing serious damage to residential complexes in this area. Some videos published on social media clearly show the high level of destruction in the lobbies of these buildings. Blood was splattered across the floor.

THE STORY BEHIND THE TRAGIC DEATH OF ASRA PANAH, a schoolgirl, in Ardabil (a city in northwest Iran)

Asra Panahi Khanqah, child of Ahmad, born on March 5, 2007, died on Thursday, October 13, 2022, in "Imam Khomeini" hospital, Ardabil. The body of this 15-year-old student was buried on Friday, October 14, under the surveillance of the security forces in the cemetery of Jajin, Ardabil.

From the outset, both within the media and among civil activists there were conflicting narratives regarding the cause of her death. While local sources reported that Asra Panahi was killed at school in connection with nationwide protests, the Iranian government published reports denying such claims stating that Asra was not present at the school at the time of the incident and passed away due to “underlying illness.”

On Friday, October 14, the Coordinating Council of the Iranian Teachers Union issued a controversial statement and announced: “On October 13, plainclothes forces attacked Shahed High School in Ardabil, and in this attack, a number of students were arrested, and one student, Asra Panahi, passed away”. From the start, the Ardabil Teachers Union together with the Coordinating Council of the Iranian Teachers Union confirmed this news.

Ali Daei, an Iranian soccer legend, by posting a note on his Instagram page, re-confirmed the reports of the death due to the security forces storming Shahed High School. Mizan news agency (associated with Iran’s judiciary) called the killing of Asra Panahi “a fabrication”. Further claiming Ali Daei’s statement was simply “in keeping with the wave of fake news that is being propagated by the anti-revolutionary media.”

In this regard, HamMihan newspaper wrote an investigative piece quoting eyewitnesses stating that on Wednesday, October 12, the principals of some Ardabil schools decided to dispatch students to take part in a government-sanctioned rally in Aali Qapu Square and have them recite the government anthem (Hail to the Chief) without informing their parents in advance. Some students were not inclined to participate in such a rally. As a result, these students instead chanted protest slogans after being forced, which led the security forces to clash with them.

In this regard, the mother of an Ardabil student told HamMihan newspaper: “When the children were taken away and there was a lot of commotion, I scrambled to get myself quickly to Aali Qapu square. When I arrived, I saw some girls chanting anti-regime slogans. The square was packed with agents and patrols. Suddenly, the hell broke loose, and the security forces assaulted the children. I was able to forcibly pull my daughter out from the middle of the crowd. My child was completely terrified by the mayhem. She almost had a cardiac arrest. I took her home. Subsequently, I heard from other parents that the scared and beaten-up children were rounded up, boarded on the bus, and brought them back to school. There was another clash at the school between the security forces and the students. Some of the children became ill and an ambulance had to be called.”

From the beginning of the protests set off by the death of Mahsa (Zhina) Amini, Ardabil was one of the cities that was rocked by the protests, but after the news of Asra Panahi’s death broke, the level of protests in this city skyrocketed remarkably. Since October 15th, Ardabil has been the scene of massive street protests regarding the death of Asra Panahi and the severe pushback of the security forces. These protests have led to the arrest of at least dozens of protesting citizens in this city.

The media closely affiliated with the Islamic Republic gave a different account of what had taken place and published several interviews that resembled “coerced confessions”. Rah Dana media network published a video of an interview with a person who introduced himself as Asra Panahi’s uncle. The interviewee claimed in this video: “Asra had a congenital heart problem and my niece’s chronic heart condition took a turn for the worse after her father passed away. On the night of the accident, she became ill and then died in the hospital.”

HRANA reported on September 12, 2022, that a 40-year-old prisoner named Ahmad Panahi Khaneqah, who had been imprisoned in Ardabil prison for four years on the charge of honor killing, had been executed. There is some evidence indicating that the executed person is the father of Asra Panahi.

In addition, Iran’s state-run television published another interview with a person in “Imam Khomeini” hospital, who showed a dossier and claimed: “Asra Panahi was transferred to this medical center with symptoms of vomiting, low blood pressure some sort of food poisoning, and passed away in the Intensive Care Unit (ICU). In this regard, Mahmoud Safari, the mayor of Ardabil, claimed that “Asra Panahi committed suicide with rice tablets” and Kazem Mousavi, the representative of Ardabil in Iran’s Islamic parliament, also claimed that “Asra Panahi was not even a student at all and added that “this person took her own life.”

In another related development, Ali Mohammadian Ardi, the president of Medical Sciences University and Health Services in Ardabil province, claimed in a statement: “Asra Panahi died due to heart and respiratory failure”.

Despite the spread of many conflicting narratives regarding the reasons behind the death of Asra Panahi, no credible evidence was ever presented by the government-affiliated media that she died due to suicide or any underlying illnesses.

FIRE AT EVIN PRISON

Since October 15, 2022, and with nationwide protests in Iran reaching new heights, Evin prison, the largest prison for political prisoners and offenses related to “national security” in Iran, has been experiencing heightened security due to a fire as well as unrest among those detained within. The news about what has been going on in this prison has been difficult to confirm.

At 7:00 p.m. on Saturday, October 15th, the first signs of a fire break out were reported in the wards 7 and 8 of Evin prison, and then the prison phones were cut off. At the same time, when an altercation broke out between the inmates and prison guards, other wards in this prison were put on alert and a sense of normalcy throughout the prison ended abruptly. From around 9 p.m. in the evening, a massive blaze could be seen over this prison, and continuous shooting and blasts were heard by those inside the prison.

Videos recorded by citizen journalists near Evin prison, showing a fire, multiple explosions, and continuous gunfire inside Evin prison, quickly went viral on social media. Many concerned families and protesting citizens gathered near the prison chanting slogans and clashing with the security forces. Their cries reached inside the prison and were heard by the prisoners.

According to the reports received by HRANA, on Saturday, October 15, several prisoners started chanting slogans in support of the nationwide protests in the open-air space within Evin, which caused an altercation between the prison guards and the inmates.

On the night of the incident, in the wards 7 and 8, the clashes escalated and the prison officers, with the help of the special guard, threw dozens of tear gas, and stun grenades, and targeted the defenseless prisoners with shotguns, metal pellets, and live ammunition. It was also reported that tear gas was thrown into other wards, including the women’s ward and ward 4. Then, while transferring hundreds of prisoners to the air-conditioning of the prison, they were beaten and humiliated until dawn while naked. Even on October 16, the condition of Evin prison was reported to be highly tense, even though the fire was brought under control and the clashes subsided. Many of the prisoners had to be transferred to other wards. Authorities could not distribute any food among the inmates under the circumstances. Dozens of political prisoners who were taken out of the affected wards were transferred to Rajai-Shahr prison in Karaj. However, weeks after this incident, there is still no information about the condition of some of the prisoners in custody.

According to the aerial images released after the fire, one of the main buildings of this prison was seriously damaged by the fire. Among the published pictures, people can be seen on the roof of one of the Evin prison wards likely throwing or tear-gassing objects. However, the scope of the Evin prison fire has yet to be fully clarified. From the very early hours, the information provided by Islamic Republic officials on this incident was contradictory. There is yet to be a clear explanation as to the reason behind these blasts and shootings that were seen and heard at Evin.

At first, the judiciary attributed the fire to an altercation between a number of prisoners who had been convicted of “financial crimes and theft” that took place in the “Sewing Workshop” that is used for apprenticeship in Evin. Mohammad Jaafar Montazeri, the country’s Prosecutor General, also claimed that the fire was “planned” and “from inside the prison”. The judiciary also announced the death of eight prisoners who had been convicted of common crimes and the injury of 61 others due to “smoke inhalation”. During the hours and days after the incident, state-run radio and other government media organizations published numerous news reports and attempted to show the situation of Evin prisoners as normal and the damages to this prison as minimal, that is while reliable reports were published regarding the injuries of the prisoners following the clashes and shootings of the security forces; Prisoners who are generally deprived of medical services despite their physical condition.

Hossein Jazi, 21 years old, is the only deceased prisoner whose identity has been verified—the authorities have not yet announced the names of the other fatalities. Some sources have claimed that Mr. Jazi was one of the detainees in the recent protests. However, the Judiciary’s Press Office dismissed this claim and wrote in a statement: “The deceased person is one of the casualties in the Evin prison incident. He died due to smoke inhalation caused by the action of convicted robbers in setting fire to the sewing workshop at Evin prison.” In this statement, it is claimed that Mr. Jazi “has a criminal record of numerous robberies with two previous convictions for crimes of theft” and “basically, the date of arrest of the deceased is July 10, 2022, that is, a few months before the recent riots and from the date of his arrest to this day when the fire broke out, he was in prison without leave.”

Fars News Agency claimed that several prisoners rushed to the northern hills of Evin prison to flee and were killed by treading in the “minefield” and were blown up by the mines. A claim that was later denied by media organizations affiliated with the Islamic Republic, including the Judiciary's Press Office.

After these events, Amnesty International, in a statement, called for the unfettered access of independent international observers to Iran's prisons. The foreign ministers of Germany and France, the top foreign policy official of the European Union, the spokesperson of the U.S. State Department, and US President Joe Biden were among the politicians who expressed concern about the situation of Evin prisoners.

THE FIRST FEMALE ATHLETE WHO SAID NO TO MANDATORY HIJAB

Elnaz Rekabi, a 33-year-old female athlete who is a member of the national team, took part in the finals of the Asian Rock-Climbing Championship in South Korea. In an unprecedented move and for the first time, an athlete representing Iran's national team in these competitions chose to compete without a hijab. She made this move during the height of the protests. She came in fourth place in the competitions. The images of her competing without the Islamic hijab were widely published on social media, and this act was admired and supported by many Iranians inside and outside the country. About six years ago, in an interview with Euro News, she called the hijab an impediment and added that the hijab can create more physical challenges for women athletes when climbing.

Elnaz Rekabi, who became incommunicado after her competition ended, posted a story on her Instagram page, and stated that "she inadvertently had a wardrobe malfunction" and is "returning to Iran with the team". This statement, which is not known under what circumstances was written by Ms. Rekabi, caused a strong reaction among many social media users and fueled speculations about her fate. In this regard, the British newspaper Guardian published a report on Elnaz Rakabi's unclear situation and wrote: "Alnaz's friends have not been able to contact her since Sunday."

The International Federation of Sport Climbing (IFSC) announced on Tuesday, October 18, by publishing a statement that it is in contact with this athlete and the Iranian Rock-Climbing Federation and supports her. In this statement, it was stated that Elnaz Rekabi's "safety" is very important to the International Federation of Sport Climbing, and this federation carefully monitors the situation in Iran and supports the athletes' right to choose and freedom of expression.

Elnaz Rekabi returned to Iran at around 3:00 a.m. on Wednesday, October 19, and was greeted by a large crowd that had gathered to welcome her at Imam Khomeini Airport, and many were worried about her arrest after entering Iran. Ms. Rekabi was met with cheers and applause from her admirers and people called her a hero. At the same time, the state media chose not to talk about success at the Asian Rock-Climbing Championship but instead chose to call into her question her commitment to wearing a hijab in these competitions.

Hours after Elnaz Rekabi returned from the competition, Seyed Hamid Sajjadi, Minister of Sports and Youth met her in his office and took a group photo. This meeting caused a severe reaction from Ahmad Alam Al-Hoda, Friday Imam of Mashhad. Alam Al-Hoda called Elnaz Rakabi “a deceived girl” and stated: “She brought down the reputation of the system in front of the eyes of all the people of the world, why did the Minister of Sports meet with this lady while she was still without a hijab and wearing only a hat?”

SCHOOLS AND STUDENTS

With the continuation of street protests, unrest, labor strikes spiking, and sit-ins in Iranian universities growing, in an unprecedented move in the 44-year history of the Islamic Republic, students in different levels of education, from elementary to high school, also showed their solidarity in various forms. Just three weeks after the death of Mahsa (Zhina) Amini, numerous news reports of students (mostly girls) joining the protests were published along with related photos and videos from schools. This added an entirely new dimension to the Iran protests. Although in some other protests in recent years, including in November 2019 people under 18 years old took part in street rallies and even some gave their lives, children in this round of protests declined to be a footnote in this movement. Instead, students have given these protests a new lease on life. In fact, for the first time in the last four decades, during the hours when students should be sitting in the classroom, the school has become a focal point of protests.

The young students in cities such as Tehran, Sanandaj, Karaj, Ardabil, Zahedan, Tabriz, Bukan, Saqqez, Kermanshah, Marivan, Shiraz, Shahinshahr, Mashhad, and Quds made schools a hub of protests by writing slogans on the class boards, by tearing off the photos of the current and former leaders of the Islamic Republic from the first pages of textbooks, removing their headscarves and in some cases setting them on fire, sitting-in and not appearing in class, or chanting protest anthems and slogans in school buildings and in the surrounding streets.

These unprecedented events have taken place notwithstanding the fact that due to the Cultural Revolution and the establishment of the Supreme Council of the Cultural Revolution, schools and textbooks were completely transformed, and given Islamic curricula. Despite this transformation and the fact that only Islamic student bodies were allowed to exist makes these protests even more significant. It should also be noted that in Iran not only students have been ideologically indoctrinated, but they have also had to attend government parades on Nov. 4 (the anniversary of the seizure of the U.S. embassy in 1979) and February 11 (the day the Islamic revolution succeeded in toppling the monarchy) since the early days of the revolution.

Among the many reports of student protests that made headlines in recent weeks, we can mention the protest move of female students at a school in Karaj. They huddled and chanted slogans and expelled one of the regional education officials from the school. Also, according to another video that was published on social media, female students at a school prevented the speech of a person who was said to be a member of “Basij” (Islamic militia affiliated with the IRGC) by removing their headscarves and chanting protest slogans.

The students’ protests led to the arrest of dozens of children and the escalation of conflicts between parents and school officials. Officials of the Ministry of Education also announced the transfer of detained students to correctional centers. In some cases, the security forces entered the schools and in addition to making the atmosphere tense, they sometimes turned the students' protests violent.

In one case, reports indicated that the students of Sadr Conservatory in Karoon Street, Tehran, were molested under the pretext of a body search in the school, and the worried parents, who were not allowed to enter the school, protested in front of the school. The arrival of the security forces and then the ambulance to this girls’ conservatory has been verified. Education officials claimed that the presence of a medical emergency crew at the site was due to the “dropping of blood pressure” experienced by several students.

According to reports from local sources, one of the students of Shahed High School in Ardebil named “Asra Panahi” died in the school in connection with the nationwide protests. Earlier In this report Asra Panahi’s Case was dissected.

In one of its statements, the Coordinating Council of Iran’s Teachers’ Unions announced that the security officers “have taken the precious lives of a number of students and children in the most brutal way during this systematic repression.” It should also be noted that in some schools, teachers also went along with their protesting students.

“PROJECTING” BY THE MOST IMPORTANT INTELLIGENCE-SECURITY INSTITUTIONS of the Islamic Republic in a Joint Press Statement

On Friday, October 28, 2022, the “Ministry of Intelligence” and the “Intelligence Organization of the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps”, the most important intelligence-security institutions of the Islamic Republic, issued a joint press statement regarding the protests after the death of Mahsa (Zhina) Amini. In this statement, these two institutions, like in the past, started projecting, among other things, to foreign countries, including the United States, Britain, and Israel, and in general, the “enemies” as the main cause and instigation of the recent protests through what they called “creating fake demands in cultural and social spheres.”

According to the aforementioned statement, the intelligence-security institutions of foreign countries have devised a scheme for the recent protests under the cover of “human rights” and “democracy promotion” through networking among the opponents of the Islamic Republic. These opponents have taken advantage of the “the existing issues and people’s dissatisfaction.” In another part of this statement, it is stated that “It has been established that foreign intelligence services have laid the groundwork for the recent riots through a plot that is to be carried out by their agents and their networks inside the country.”

The Ministry of Intelligence and the IRGC Intelligence Agency called the concerns about filtering and international measures aimed at providing free access to the Internet in Iran “fake” and characterized the move to make Starlink satellite Internet available to the Iranian people as an “expansion of the American Internet dictatorship” and claimed that the Starlink equipment or parts entered Iran illegally.

The two intelligence bodies also criticized Meta (the parent company of Facebook, Instagram, and WhatsApp) and claimed that the company “paved the way for fake news, hate speech, and acts of violence by deliberately manipulating artificial intelligence algorithms.” The statement added that this was done with great intensity and in a targeted fashion.

The most important security-intelligence institutions of the Islamic Republic have characterized the two arrested Iranian female journalists who actively covered the news of Mahsa Amini’s death “as trained under the supervision of the American mafia-like regime with a history of meddling in foreign countries”.

This statement accused Nilufar Hamed, reporter of Shargh newspaper, and Elahe Mohammadi, reporter of HamMihan newspaper, of slanted and biased reporting even though these two reporters’ managing editors (Mehdi Rahmanian, the editor-in-chief of Sharq newspaper and Gholamhossein Karbaschi, editor-in-chief of Ham-Mihan newspaper) came to their defense. In this regard, Rahmanian said: “Publishing photos of Mahsa and news of her death by our reporter was the right thing to do and we have fulfilled our mission as journalists. Ms. Hamed was in lockstep with us all along the way.” Karbaschi also stressed that Elahe Mohammadi, the reporter of this newspaper, went to Kurdistan with the full knowledge of this newspaper to cover Mahsa Amini’s funeral.”

MASS SHOW TRIALS

On Saturday, October 29, 2022, the Judiciary Press Office announced that at least 1,000 indictments were issued against those detained during the recent protests in different provinces, including Kerman, Semnan, Zanjan, Khuzestan, Qazvin, Kurdistan, Tehran, and Alborz. These indictments have been issued by the order of Gholam-Hossein Mohseni-Ejei, the head of the judiciary of the Islamic Republic of Iran. The courts have started hearings for these defendants last week.

According to the report, Tehran was the first province where the hearing of the cases for these detainees who had been picked up during protests began in the 15th branch of the General and Revolutionary Court of this province headed by Abolqasem Salavati. “Mohammed Boroghani”, “Mohsen Rezazadeh Qaroqlou”, “Saman Seydi” on charges of “Moharebeh (war on God)” and two other citizens named “Mohammed Qobadlo” and “Said Shirazi” on charges of “spreading corruption on earth” and another citizen named “Abolfazl Mehri Hossein Hajilu” on charges of “defying the Islamic government” were the first defendants in these courts.

Amir Raisian, the lawyer of Mohammad Qobadlou, one of the citizens who was accused of “spreading corruption on earth” in the above-mentioned court, published an article on his Twitter account and addressed the flaws in the case and the way the case was being handled by the court. He also talked about his lack of access to his client. While admitting there is enough evidence in this case to convict Mohammad Qobadlo, this lawyer also disclosed that his client was suffering from some sort of mental illness.

Iran’s security agencies claim that 22-year-old Mohammad Qobadlo intentionally ran over the police motorcyclists with a white Paykan car, which led to the death of second lieutenant Vahid Karampour Hasanvand and the injury of five police officers. However, according to Amir Raisian, the murder charge for “running over” these officers is highly doubtful.

This is not the first time that the Islamic Republic has set up “show trials” in the middle of or after street protests, and by broadcasting the sessions of such courts on radio and other independent media, it tries to victimize some people and intimidate others in society.

As of 7th December, on the 82nd day of the protests, at least 12 of the mentioned defendants have been sentenced to execution on charges such as “Moharebeh” and “Spreading corruption on earth”. From the 12 individuals who have been sentenced to death, only names of 2 have been officially announced: Mohsen Shekari and Sahand Nour-Mohammadzadeh. More so, to this day the show trials have issued a total of 1218 months in prison for a total of 33 defendants.

The Amnesty international issued a statement warning of possible death sentences for 28 arrestees.

KURDISTAN AND BALUCHISTAN

Although these protests covered all the provinces of the country, there were significant differences between these two provinces and the rest of the country.

The southern region of Sistan and Baluchistan Province, which we abbreviate here as Baluchistan because of its demographics, was the scene of the most severe crackdown during the Iran protests. After the Friday prayer was held on September 30, those attending the prayer took to the street and protested. In the ensuing crackdown, more than 90 Baluchis were killed on that day. The severity of the crackdown on Baluchi citizens provided an impetus for the people of this area to take to the street every Friday after the prayer and turned each Friday prayer into a bloody affair. The manner of holding protests after the gathering of people after Friday prayers every week caused the cities of this region to witness bloody protests every Friday. The Supreme Leader of Iran sent his representatives to the region to meet the Baluch religious and tribal leaders, but in the end, Molavi Abdul Hamid, the Baloch Sunni leader, said that these representatives threatened Baluchi leaders instead of trying to make amends. A large number of children can be seen among the fatalities in Baluchistan.

The other region was the southern regions of West Azerbaijan province, Kurdistan, and Kermanshah, which is known mostly as the Kurdish region because of its demographics. These areas have seen the most intense protests over the past 82 days. Given that Mahsa (Zhina) Amini was a member of the Kurdish community and was born and bred in Saqqez (predominantly a Kurdish town), it was not surprising that this town became the focal point of the Iran protests.

These areas, especially the cities of Mahabad, Bukan, and Javanrud, witnessed the bloodiest protests in the western and northwestern regions of the country. The level of bloodshed was such that the member of parliament from Mahabad claimed in a speech on November 27 that the unofficial number of fatalities in the Kurdish areas stood at 105 people. The level of repression in these areas, which was accompanied by the bombing of the headquarters of Kurdish opposition parties in the Kurdish areas of Iraq, was another indication of the full-fledged violence that the regime unleashed during these nationwide protests.

The common feature of these two areas is that they are predominantly inhabited by Sunni adherents of Islam. Citizens of these areas belong to Kurds and Baloch ethnicities and the areas lack economic development. Both areas have historically experienced a high degree of discrimination which has raised the level of dissatisfaction in these areas.

SPREADING JUSTICE; A COLLECTIVE WILL TO IDENTIFY HUMAN RIGHTS PERPETRATORS

One of the unique aspects of this protest that has stood out compared to previous protests, is the collective will of the people to identify those responsible for the violent repression of the protests. Many videos and pictures that were circulating the social media were not only of protestors but attempts at capturing the faces of the repressive forces.

The collective will of people to hold perpetrators responsible was welcomed by the Human Rights Organizations that are working on accountability. Databases such as “Spreading Justice; Database of Human Rights Violators in Iran” increased its capacities in investigating the identities of human rights perpetrators and its efforts for accountability measures taken against them. In addition to high-ranking officials who based on their chain of command are responsible for the violent crackdown on protestors, many midlevel forces and on the ground, forces were also identified using crowd sourcing methods.

Using digital tools to improve quality of pictures taken from videos, tens of pictures of violators were shared across social media asking for help from the public in identifying the perpetrators highlighted. Thousands of people circulated these social media posts some of which were circulated over 200k times on platforms such as Telegram. Thousands of lines of information including pictures, videos, names, testimonies, etc. were received from the protestors and students, showing the will for accountability, and increasing pressure both socially, legally, and politically for the violators.

As a result, more than 100 violators and many entities were sanctioned by various governing bodies across the world including Canada, United states, and European Union.

However, these efforts not only were seen by the people but some of the repressive forces as well seemed to have been deterred from acting violently knowing their actions are being watched closely. Soon after the circulation of call for identification of perpetrators many of the repressive forces began fully covering their faces.

SOME OF THE WEAPONS USED IN SUPPRESSING IRAN'S PROTESTS تعدادی از سلاح های به کار رفته در سرکوب اعتراضات

WEAPONS AND FORCES OF REPRESSION

During the ongoing nationwide protests in Iran, the presence of FARAJA forces Especially the Special Units has been more than previous protests. Along FARAJA forces, also the members of the Imam Ali security battalions, which are affiliated with the Basij forces and ultimately under the command of the IRGC ground forces suppressing played a major role in the suppression of unarmed Protestors.

In addition to common anti-riot equipment such as tear gas, pepper sprays, shockers, and batons, the repressive forces also used other tools that have been deadly at times. In the following article, we try to examine such tools.

Paintball Guns

The paintball gun, which can be bought and sold in the market, is designed as a weapon for playing or using in sport clubs. This gun, which is mainly made of aluminum, works with various gases, including CO2 gas, compressed air, or nitrogen.

The caliber of this weapon is 0.68, it has a range of approximately 45 meters, and it can hold up to 200 bullets per load and operate semi-automatically.

Paintball guns are not included in the category of deadly weapons, but several cases of reports have been submitted to Spreading Justice, which show that the security forces which based on their Uniforms mostly belong to Faraja, use this type of weapons to target sensitive parts such as the faces of protesters, which in cases have caused injury, especially in the eye area. Spreading Justice has documented the dangerous use of these weapons in Tehran, Mashhad, Rasht, Karaj and Sanandaj.

Shotguns

A shotgun is a type of gun that has a groove-less barrel and fires a large number of spherical pellets at the target in each shot. This type of gun is usually used in hunting and sports and sometimes in war and for police forces. Shotguns range usually does not exceed 100 meters. Most two-barrel guns fall under this division of firearms.

A shotgun cartridge usually has a cardboard or plastic casing called shotshell, and its size is expressed by a number that is sometimes called caliber in Farsi, analogously to bullet guns.

Shotguns usually exist in the form of long barreled or waist guns, but evidence found so far indicates that the only ones used in facing protesters are long-barreled types.

This weapon is the weapon that has been systematically used most often in the face of recent protesters in various cities by plain clothes or uniformed forces.

According to the documents collected by the Spreading Justice, the most shotshells used in these weapons in the recent protests were 12mm pallets, which usually hold 9 bullets and can be deadly if used at a distance of less than 40 meters.

After studying the forensic documents and speaking to Eyewitnesses, Spreading Justice confirms that the death of Mohammad-Javad Zahedi in City of Sari, has been due to the use of this type of weapon by FARAJA forces.

More so, Spreading Justice has talked to at least three doctors who have treated the injured in recent incidents. According to the testimony of these doctors and based on their firsthand experience, they reported more than 80 cases that were wounded by pallets from shotguns. It should be noted that this large number is based on the witness of only three doctors in the cities of Tehran, Rasht and Karaj.

According to testimonies and reliable video documentation, the pallets did not only hit the lower body of the protestors, but they were found in various parts of the body including the face and torso. This shows that contrary to the statements of law enforcement officials, the forces present at the scene have used this weapon, which can be deadly, by firing blindly at the protestors.

In addition to unbranded ammunition, the Spreading Justice has seen picture of used shotshells, which belong to the Maham company, which is a subsidiary of Iran's Ministry of Defense.

Assault rifles

Based on the Reports received by the Spreading Justice, the war weapons used to suppress protestors were mostly one of the three:

1. Kalashnikova
2. Heckler & Koch G3
3. Steyr HS .50

Considering that Spreading Justice have not received enough evidence to confirm the use of Steyr HS .50, this type of weapon and its use will be discussed in the future reports as we receive additional information. This report will focus on the use of Kalashnikova and G3 for suppression of protestors.

Kalashnikova (known as: Kalash or AK-47) is an assault rifle that operates with gas and is chambered for 7.62 x 39mm cartridge. The effective firing range for a AK-47 is between 300 to 400m and its maximum range is 2000m. the standard magazine capacity if this weapon is 30 or 75 rounds drum magazines.

Another weapon that falls under this category is Heckler & Koch G3. This weapon has caliber of 7.62 and 51mm bullets. Its effective firing range is 200 to 400m and its standard magazine capacity is 30 as well as up to 100 round drum magazines.

Eventhough the two mentioned deadly weapons have been use less frequently compared to previous protests, however in the cases that the use of these weapons has been documented during these protests, we can mention the use of Kalashnikova and Heckler & Koch G3 in the massacre of Zahedan that came to be known as bloody Friday of Zahedan, and the use of Kalashnikova in the deadly attacks on Sanandaj.

According to the opinion of the doctors with whom the Spreading Justice consulted, the effects of this weapon can be seen on the bodies of some victims, including Omid Sarani and Matin Ghanbarzahi.

As mentioned, the death of about 90 Baloch protesters in the event of Black Friday in Zahedan is considered the most concrete evidence of the use of these weapons against the protesters.

Considering the extent of protests in 110 cities and 70 universities, Spreading Justice cannot consider the use of these weapons as dominant way of suppressing the protestors in recent protests, however it confirms the use as of the two deadly weapons against protestors at least in the two mentioned cities of Zahedan and Sanandaj.

Handguns

There are many types of handguns, but according to the Spreading Justice in consultation with experts, the most common type that is available to the FARAJA forces is the German Sig Sauer type, which is known as Zoaf in Iran.

This 9mm semi-automatic weapon is armed with direct gas pressure and its barrel is air-cooled.

This weapon is used in short distances and its magazine usually holds 8 bullets.

Other weapons such as Revolvers and various Glock or Beretta are also used in the military forces, however they are not considered for this report due to the lack of evidence of their use during recent protests.

By examining the available evidence, Spreading Justice can confirm that this deadly weapon has been used by FARAJA uniformed officers in at least four locations in Zahedan, Karaj, Rasht, and Tehran.

The use of this weapon in a short range is deadly, however, considering the extent of the protests, Spreading Justice does not confirm its systematic use, but it has definitely been used against the protesters in some cases.

STUDENT BASIJ

The Spreading Justice initiative (SJ) of Human Rights Activists (HRA) has received ample evidence and information on the involvement of University Student Basij Forces in the crackdown of protesters during the ongoing protests in Iran, especially at the universities. These involvements include physical confrontation with protesting students, gathering protesting student information, and providing them to security forces, and doing so aiding the arrests of students.

However, Student Basij members, despite their vital role in the crackdowns are left under the radar and often do not pay any cost for their involvement with the suppression of student movements. Many of the Student Basij members travel, study, or immigrate abroad with full impunity.

The Student Basij was formed by the direct order of the founder of Islamic Republic, Khomeini, on 23 November 1988. This institution was formed in universities with the aim of “the defense of Islam, the revolution, and the values of the ruling system, to link the Hawza and the university”, “explaining, promoting, and realizing the orders of the former and current supreme leaders of Islamic Republic, namely Ruhollah Khomeini and Seyed Ali Khamenei”, and “Identifying and training of loyal, committed, and aligned forces with the characteristics of the Islamic Revolution for the perpetuation of the Islamic Revolution”. Ever since, Student Basij has had offices in universities across the country where students have been voluntarily recruited.

Student Basij is organizationally affiliated with the Islamic Revolutionary Guards (IRGC), and the Islamic Revolutionary Guards Ground Forces (NEZSA). The commander of the national student Basij is appointed by the IRGC commander, and the provincial commanders of Student Basij are appointed by the provincial IRGC commanders.

The Student Basij have a history of involvement in the suppression of student movements in the universities at least since 1999, and their role in crackdowns on university movements and activists has increased ever since. The Student Basij has a history of violent confrontations, spying on students, and paving the way for the entry of intelligence-security forces to repress student movements.

Student Basij members receive ideological training and are highly loyal to the supreme leader, Khamenei. Often, their role within the system does not end with their studies. Due to their loyalty and training, they are of great value for the government and often they move on to assume governmental and security positions within the system following their studies.

We believe that Student Basij and its affiliations should not enjoy international impunity for three main reasons.

1. Student Basij plays a vital role in combating democratic seeking movements of Iranian people, especially the student movement.
2. Student Basij members are the governments ideological reserve for assuming important roles within the system in the future
3. Student Basij is officially under the command of IRGC

Having said that, we realized the Student Basij members are more likely to consider immigrating or studying abroad. Therefore, we have started collecting evidence and data on the active members of Student Basij, and have called on people to share any information regarding the members of this organization with Spreading Justice.

We have compiled the collected data and information, including names of current and former active Student Basij members, especially those that are actively serving the ruling ideology and confronting student movements. We have made the decision to not share this information publicly given its complexity, rather we aim to share with universities and immigration offices globally, and further urge governments to deny active members of Student Basij entry visas.

STRIKES

One of the main features that distinguished the “Woman, Life, Freedom” protests from previous protests has been the widespread participation of the bazaar, trade unions, and workers.

The strike by bazaar merchants was concentrated in northwestern and southeastern regions of the country. Parts of the Tehran bazaar, the heart of the supply chain and distribution in Iran, have witnessed labor strikes, despite the government's deep ties with bazaar merchants.

In total, businesses in 53 cities went on strike a total of 163 times in 82 days by closing their shops. During this period, educational centers or workshops went on strike in 33 cities with 110 protests at their premises. In addition, 14 cities were scenes of protests either at the place of study or businesses where these protests took place at least 43 times.

Factory workers in Asaluyeh Petro Chemical Refinery, Abadan Oil Refinery, Isfahan Iron Smelting, Iran Tire Rubber Manufacturing Company, as well as several truck drivers, teachers, and lawyers were among those that protested or stepped out of work for at least a day. Some workers even resigned in solidarity with the nationwide protest movement.

To break labor strikes or prevent any strikes to take hold, the Iranian government has taken several measures. As the Council of Oil Contract Workers, which organizes the protests among oil workers, announced, more than 250 workers were arrested on the 18th, 19th, and 20th of October. The government has also paid pensioners and drivers what they were owed. A meeting of protesting lawyers was also raided by the government. There were other measures taken by the government to end or prevent the strikes. Despite all the pressure exerted by the government trade unions, the bazaar, workers, and some government employees took individual actions such as resignation to demonstrate that these protests go beyond the demands of a particular social class or interest group.

DISRUPTION IN INTERNET ACCESS

Disruption of the Internet and mobile communication networks was detected from the first days of the recent protests.

From September 20, 2022, Internet disruptions reached its peak, especially in Kurdistan and other protest hotbeds.

The cities of Saqqez, Arak, Urumieh, Oshnavieh, Amlash, Ahwaz, Baneh, Bijar, Paveh, Piranshahr, Takab, Chabahr, Dehgolan, Divandareh, Rabat, Rasht, Sardasht, Sarvabad, Saqqez, Sanandaj, Shahin Shahr, Shahin Dejh, Shiraz, Qorveh, Qazvin, Kamyaran, Karaj, Kermanshah, Langeroud, Marivan, Mashhad, Mahabad, and all over Kurdistan and parts of Metropolitan Tehran experienced the most cases of Internet disruptions until December 7, 2022.

There are several reports that indicate, in a number of cities in the country, the speed of the Internet diminished from 12 noon to 4p.m., and then from 4p.m. to 12 midnight, the reduction in the speed of home Internet doubled and mobile Internet was also completely cut off in that time frame.

In addition, the review of Internet Outage Detection (IODA) data, which reviews Internet traffic around the world, indicates that the 10 provinces that face the most interruptions and disruptions of the internet are: Hormozgan, Fars, Isfahan, Ilam, Qom, Semnan, Tehran, Qazvin, Mazandaran, and Golestan.

From September 20, when the communication disruption took a nationwide form, platforms such as Instagram, WhatsApp, Skype, App Store, Google Play, Clash of Clans, LinkedIn, and Viber were filtered.

In the wake of Internet disruptions, the amount of Internet usage in Iran diminished by 67 percent and also mobile communication networks, including Hamrah-e Aval, Irancell, and Rightel, suffered constant disruptions.

Also, the Axios News site reported a 3,000 percent increase in the demand for and download of Virtual Private Networks (VPN) in the country.

Net Blocks, warned of internet disruption in the Amir Kabir University in Tehran, and internet shut down of “Mobin Net”, one of the largest internet companies across Iran.

In the first days of the nationwide protests, Elon Musk, the owner of Starlink, promised satellite Internet for all Iranians. After his comment, the site of Mr. Musk's company was filtered in Iran.

Also, the text messages containing Mahsa Amini's name were filtered and blocked by the Hamrah-e Aval Telecommunication Network.

During this period, various human rights groups issued statements and expressed their concern about the Internet shutdown in Iran and its repercussions.

On Monday, September 24, the Tejarat News Web site reported in a news story that after reviewing the economic consequences of the internet outage in Iran it concluded that the livelihoods of about 10 million Iranians are in jeopardy just because of the lack of access to Instagram. However, Issa Zarepour, the Minister of Communications and Information Technology announced the establishment of new filters indefinitely.

According to many experts, many online businesses are on the verge of bankruptcy, and eight hours of daily Internet outage has caused a lot of financial hardship to Iranian economy.

Hamshahri newspaper reported in a news story that nine million Iranian citizens who have chosen Instagram as their preferred method to do business have faced serious challenges after the regime began filtering Instagram.

It also became apparent that Islamic Republic disrupts satellite signals of international satellite TV channels.

The French company Eutelsat announced in a statement on October 6 that the Islamic Republic of Iran has been sending jammers to its two satellites for the past 10 days.

Eutelsat announced that, in addition to Persian-language radio and television channels abroad, these jammers also disrupt several other channels.

ACTIVISTS IN THE FIELD OF INFORMATION

Another group that was arrested by the security and law enforcement agencies was comprised of journalists and other members of the media. They were arrested for the sole purpose of preventing any dissemination of information on the protests. The following 61 profiles include journalists who ran afoul of the authorities and were put in prison for simply doing their jobs.

Javad Heidarian, Khosrow Kurdpour, Masoud Kordpour, Yalda Moiri, Niloufar Hamed, Alireza Khoshbakht, Ruhollah Nakhei, Mojtaba Rahimi, Yashar Soltani Fatemeh Rajabi, Alireza Jabari, Payam Khodabande, Batoul Balali, Samira Alinejad, Jabar Dastbaz, Navid Jamshidi, Elahe Mohammadi, Marzieh Talaei, Ali Khatibzadeh, Iman Behpasand, Vida Rabani, Ahmadreza Halabisaz, Mehrnoush Tafian, Mahmoud Shahriari, Farshid Ghorbanpour, Aria Jafari, Alborz Nezami, Ali Salem, Shahram Azmoudeh, Adel Karimi, Farkhondeh Ashoori, Mandana Sadeqi, Reza Mohammadi, Hossein Esmaili, Vahid Shadman, Ehsan Pirbarnash, Saeideh Fathi, Vahid Shamsaldin-Nejad, Marzieh Amiri, Afshin Gholami, Pouria Mahdavi Moghadam, Fardin Kamangar, Farzaneh Yahya-Abadi, Maryam Mazroui, Maliheh (Zahra) Darki, Yaghma Fashkhani, Nazila Maroufian, Nasrin Hasani, Somayeh Masroor, Fahimeh Nazari, Taiebeh Sadat Mirhosseini, Parisa Parvaneh, Davood Davoodi, Reza Asadabadi, Mehdi Amirpour, Maryam Vahidian, Somayeh Masroor, Sajjad Rahmani, Nastaran Ferkhe, Hossein Yazdi, Esfandiar Fathi

HUMAN AND FINANCIAL LOSSES

A large number of protesters and security forces were killed and wounded during the eighty-two days of the nationwide protests.

There was also a lot of damage to government and private property.

VIOLENCE

During the nationwide protests, in addition to the dead, scores of citizens across the country were injured in various ways. According to news reports, these injuries are caused by beatings with batons, electric shocks, or because of the use of weapons such as pepper spray, tear gas, pellets, or plastic bullets, and in some cases, weapons of war, especially handguns.

According to news reports, military forces have used ambulances, public transit busses, and in some cases food trucks for the transportation of forces and equipment. Protesters' defensive actions, as a result, have caused damage to around 60 ambulances in the country. In addition, law enforcement agencies have also used city schools as buses to store their gear and equipment in preparation to confront the protesters. Consequently, these places have sustained damage to their structure during clashes. The mayor of Tehran has also claimed that 43 public transit busses, 54 bus stations, and 25 firetrucks have sustained damage in the city.

Many pictures and videos published on social networks, as well as news reports that have been shared with HRANA, indicate the frequent use of handguns by law enforcement to quell the protests.

A major part of the anti-riot police deployed during the protests is coming from the forces of Islamic Republic Police (FARAJA), of which the special units (Yegan Vijeh) is the most visible in repressions.

The Basij force, especially the Imam Ali Security battalion and the Fatehin Special units, along with the police, were of the main bodies to suppress the protesters during the unrest in this period, and it seems that the most casualties sustained by government law enforcement were also from this group.

In addition, according to the reports received by HRANA, during the recent weeks, hundreds of arrested protestors have been transferred to Qarchak, Varamin, Tehran, Vakil Abad, Ilam, Evin and other prisons in the country.

Media outlets that are close to the government have claimed, however, that many of the personnel in the Basij and law enforcement have been injured in the protests. This claim is not, however, consistent with the available evidence. The heavy hand of the forces deployed against the protesters makes this less plausible.

Iran's official media claimed the Iranian economy suffered damages to the tune of 800 or 100 billion tomans (the unofficial Iranian currency) due to the recent protests and strikes. Officials have claimed 460 bank branches and ATMs, and 61 ambulances were damaged. That bank shareholders have also lost tens of billions of tomans. In addition, the four-day closure of shops in 80 cities in the country, the destruction of 70 bus stations, 100 buses, 30 firetrucks, and 15 police cars have all been damaging to public services.

As usual, the Iran security apparatus tried to deny responsibility for the violence and damage to property and places and pin the blame on the protesters by publishing reports including coerced confessions from the detainees. However, pictures of security forces destroying houses and the personal property of citizens have been published on social networks.

THE FATALITIES IN THE PROTESTS

HRANA has divided the information about the fatalities in the first 82 days of protests into three categories.

The first group is 481 people whose identities have been received by the HRANA News Agency. Verification of this batch is in progress. So far, the death of 251 people from this list has been directly verified and confirmed by HRANA, and other information is being investigated at the time of publication of this report.

Among the identities under investigation, 8% are women, 14% are children, and 78% are men. also, among the 265 identities whose exact or relative age has been determined, 68 are minors under the age of 18.

Second category - Statistics without names and details

The second category is remarks or reports made by government officials or government institutions and human rights groups. This category only relies on figures but without mentioning any details and identities.

On November 27, Amirali Hajizadeh, Commander of IRGC Air Force, claimed 300 people have been killed in the recent protests, however he did not mention what percentage of this number include the security forces fatalities as well.

Third Category – Dead military-security personnel

The third category is the security forces or plainclothes agents who have been killed during the protests, and their deaths have been confirmed and announced by the media close to the security apparatus.

Among the 61 names mentioned, there are some names that are disputed between the protesters and the Iranian government. The Iranian government has claimed that they were affiliated forces, but the protesters believe that they were part of the protesters, and the Iranian government is trying to distort the reality. These names are marked on the list for further investigation.

List number Four - mass detentions without specifications

Despite the efforts of human rights organizations, these organizations have been unable to identify all the detainees of the recent protests. However, Human Rights Activists in Iran (HRA) has attempted to compile the most accurate estimate of the number of detainees. The estimates of this organization are based on four sources:

- 1- Statements made by Iranian officials about the detentions.

2- Statements of the judiciary regarding the number of indictments that have been issued and the trial of the accused

3- Information published by third party reliable sources.

4- Information that this organization has received from the network of its collaborators in Iran, especially from inside prisons.

The estimated report of 18,242 detainees is based on 214 reports collected from the above-mentioned sources.

After these numbers are received, duplicate reports are removed and then the final tally is calculated. It is likely that the actual number of detainees is higher than the estimated number.

For example, during the current protest movement, an audio file from one of the deputy ministers of the Ministry of Information was leaked. This security official talks to the authorities about the protests. He says in this file that at the beginning of the protests, 15,000 people were detained in Tehran alone. Although ultimately, due to lack of sufficient details, this figure was not included in the summary of this estimate, but it should be kept in mind that if we factor this figure in, the number of detainees is many times HRA's estimate.

The numbers in parentheses are the original numbers of the report, which after matching with other calculated reports, are included in statistics for a more accurate estimate with a different number. Some reports with an unknown number refer to group arrest without mentioning the exact number.

REACTIONS

Following the arrest and death of Mahsa (Zhin) Amini and then the beginning and continuation of protests, some Iranian and international political figures and activists, artists and public figures did not remain silent. The following is a brief mention of these supports.

NON-GOVERNMENTAL POLITICAL FIGURES IN IRAN

Masoumeh Ebtekar, former President Hassan Rouhani's vice president for women and family affairs, called the surveillance video attributed to Mahsa Amini in the Vozara Detention Centre released by the police as truncated and said that this video has raised more questions. Sayyid Mohammad Khatami, the fifth president of the Islamic Republic of Iran, called the death of Mahsa Amini an "unfortunate tragedy."

Many Iranian political figures living inside the country, such as Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, Ali Motahari, Ahmad Montazeri, Zahra Rahnavard, Abdollah Ramezanzadeh, Mahmoud Sadeghi, Mohammad Reza Aref, Fatemeh Hashemi Rafsanjani, Azar Mansouri, Jalal Mirzaei, Ali Shakuri Rad, Ayatollah Mostafa Mohaghegh Damad, Abbas Abdi, Abolfazl Qadiani, Hamid Rasaei and other figures like Jafar Kosha, (president of Iranian Bar Association), Farshid Gurbanpour (journalist), Abdul Samad Khorramshahi (lawyer), Nasrin Sotoudeh (lawyer) and Maulvi Abdul Ghaffar Naqshbandi (a figure for Sunni people in Iran in Iran and the Imam of Friday prays at Rask Mosque) reacted to the mentioned events in the country through publishing a message. Grand Ayatollah Asadollah Bayat-Zanjani, a senior cleric, also vocally criticized the "morality police" (Ghashte-e-Ershad) and described it as illegal, illegitimate and irrational, as well as against religion.

Furthermore, several professors at the Sharif University of Technology went on strike in response to the arrest of students. Shahram Khazaei, Sohrab Rahwar, Ali Ghazizadeh, Mehrzadpour Mohammad Namvar, Alireza Moazezi Tehrani, Siros Askari, Alireza Bahreini, Zahra Kaveh Vash and Ali Sharifi Zarchi are nine of the professors of Sharif University of Technology who, while emphasizing that "until the release of students Detainees will not hold classes," went on strike.

Dara Moazzami (professor of Technical faculty of Tehran University), Keyvan Sarreshteh, Milad Shajareh, Maham Miqani, Hamidreza Paasvar and Mozhgan Khaleghi (visiting professors of faculty of Performing Arts of Tehran University of Fine Arts Campus), Nasrullah Hekmat (professor of department of Philosophy at Shahid Beheshti University), Negar Zilabi (professor of faculty of Theology at Shahid Beheshti University), Majid Rajabi (professor of the faculty of Mechanics, University of Science and Technology), Morteza Sediq (Professor of the faculty of Architecture, University of Science and Technology), Maryam Kashkulinia (professor of the Visual Arts, faculty of the College of Fine Arts), Pedram Mohammadi (professor of University of Performing Arts), Alireza Mostaghni (head of the faculty of Architecture and Urban Planning, University of Arts), Alireza Heydari (member of the faculty of department of Pediatric Dentistry, Tehran University of Medical Sciences), Azin Movahed (member of faculty of Fine Arts, Tehran University) and a group of professors of Tehran University's music department also announced their strike. Lili Galehdaran, a member of the academic staff of the Dramatic Literature Department of the Shiraz University of Arts, while supporting the nationwide protests, also resigned from her position in protest against the death of Mahsa (Zhina) Amini.

In addition, Mohammad Javad Azari Jahormi, the former intelligence officer who served as the Minister of Information and Communications Technology in the administration of President Hassan Rouhani, reacted to the limitations of the Internet and social media filters by publishing a message on his Telegram channel and wrote: "This way of interacting with cyberspace is definitely wrong. Once burned, twice shy."

More so, some Iranian and non-Iranian political prisoners and civil activists reacted to the recent events by sending messages and letters from prison. Salimollah Hossein Bar (a political prisoner in Saravan Prison), Leila Hosseinnzadeh (a student activist in the Adil Abad Prison in Shiraz), Hamid Haj Jafar Kashani, Payam Shakiba, Saeed Egbali and Ali Mousanezhad Farkoush (political prisoners in Rajaei Shahr Prison in Karaj), Soheil Yadollahi (political prisoner in Bojnord Prison), Narges Mohammadi, Aliyeh Motallebzadeh, Hasti Amiri, Zhila Makoundi, Sepideh Kashani, Maliheh Jafari, Elnaz Eslami, Mahnaz Tarrah, Nazanin Mohammadnezhad, Raha Asgarizadeh, Golareh Abbasi, Sepideh Qolian, Saba Kord Afshari, Asal Mohammadi (political prisoners in Evin Prison), Mohammad Najafi (a lawyer in Arak Prison) and Maryam Akbari Monfared (political prisoner in Semnan Prison) announced their support to the recent protests in Iran by publishing separate messages. Monireh Arabshahi, Yasaman Ariani, Sakineh Parvaneh, Arsham Rezaei, Yashar Tabrizi, Zartosht Ahmadi Ragheb, Seyyed Afkham Ebrahimi, Siros Gharche, Sadegh Omid, Moein Hajizadeh, Mohammad Khani, Mohammad Irannezhad, Farhad Chehrehasa, Yusef Mehrad, Sadrallah Fazeli Zare and Hojjatallah Raefi also reacted to this event by signing either a joint statement or going on a limited hunger strike.

Forty Iranian lawyers also published a statement supporting the ongoing nationwide protests, stating that “the uprising of Iranian citizens is an uprising for rights and returning to the rule of law” and declared: “now, our issue is freedom and judicial justice.” Similarly, thirty-two lawyers from the provinces of Kermanshah and Kurdistan in Iran issued a joint statement demanding “to return the right to self-determination to the people.”

On the other hand, a group of journalists in Iran criticized the joint statement of the Ministry of Intelligence of the Islamic Republic of Iran and the Intelligence Organization of the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps about the nationwide protests. It is worth noting that the joint statement called the protests “designed by foreign intelligence services.”

In addition, a group of Khavaran's bereaved families declared their solidarity with the recent protests in Iran by publishing a statement titled “Iranian People's Liberation Movement” and highlighted that they “stand with solidarity with the mourning families and sympathize deeply with them.”

Furthermore, Molavi Abdul Hamid Ismaeelzahi, an Iranian cleric and the Sunni Friday Imam of Zahedan, issued a message regarding the death of protesting citizens in Kurdistan: “Bullets should not be used against Kurdish people and they should be treated with violence.” He also pointed to the “mistreatment of prisoners and female inmates” and called for the release of all those arrested during the protests, as well as the resolution of the filtering on the internet. Molavi Abdul Hamid stated: “Killing and imprisoning is not the way of running a country. It would be wise to sit with the people.”

In this regard, in a statement, a group of Sunni clerics of Urmia, while condemning the violent treatment of the protesters, they demanded “unconditional release of the arrested protesters, reconsideration of the authorities in dealing with the protesting citizens, addressing their demands, ending the repression and cruel killing of people, etc.”. The Sunni clerics of Sardasht city also declared solidarity with the protestors and pointed out that “Victory will not be attained by spreading fear.”

DOMESTIC POLITICAL OR CIVIL GROUPS

Independent labour and teachers unions such as The Coordinating Council of Iranian Teachers' trade Associations, Teachers' unions of Tehran, Khuzestan, Bushehr, Fars, Kurdistan, Eslamabad-e-Gharb, and a number of working and retired teachers from Kurdistan, as well as The Syndicate of Workers of Tehran and Suburbs Bus Company (SWTSBC), The Syndicate of Workers of Haft Tappeh Cane Sugar Company, The Free Union of Iranian Workers (FUIW), The Iranian Writers Association, and Union of Scientific Societies of Social Sciences of the country condemned the death of 22-year-old Mahsa Amini by publishing separate statements.

Consultative Assembly of Yarasan Civil Activists, Iranian Retired Council, National Union of Iranian Retired, Tehran Independent Retired Group, House of Cinema and Reform Front also issued separate statements. They all condemned the incident, calling for the disbandment of the morality police and the trial of the commanders and perpetrators of Mahsa Amini's death.

Furthermore, the Islamic associations of students of Tehran University and Tehran Medical Sciences issued a statement protesting the performance of university security staff in suppressing students. And a group of gender equality and LGBTQI+ activists in Iran reacted to the recent events in Iran by publishing a statement.

As a symbolic act, a weekly magazine in Kermanshah called Sedaye Azadi (Voice of Freedom) also printed its front page in white in protest against what happened to Mahsa Amini.

In the meantime, startups such as Digikala, Snapp!, Flightio, Divar and TAPSI publicly announced their sympathy for the recent events by releasing separate messages.

On the other hand, on Monday, September 26, the Dentistry students at Tabriz University went on strike in protest against the widespread arrest of students. A group of students from “Shaheed Chamran” University in Ahvaz, Bu-Ali Sina University in Hamedan, Sooreh University in Tehran, University of Arts and Pars Architecture in Tehran, K. N. Toosi University of Technology, Allameh Tabataba'i University in Tehran, Tehran National University, Kharazmi University in Tehran, Tabriz National University, the Amirkabir University of Technology in Tehran, University of Science and Culture in Tehran, “Shahid Beheshti” University in Tehran, Tarbiat Modares University in Tehran, Qazvin International University, Ferdowsi University of Mashhad, Gilan University, Alzahra University in Tehran and the University of Social Welfare and Rehabilitation Sciences in Tehran by publishing statements protesting the suppression of protests and arresting students and refused to attend classes.

On the same day, the organizing council of oil contract workers' protests issued a statement in protest against “the killing of people and the repression and harassment of women because of the hijab and the death of Mahsa Amini at the hands of Morality Police.” The organization warned the government and stated that “protesting is the inalienable right of us workers and we are the people, and we are protesting against the oppression and repression that has been inflicted on us for more than forty years. We are no longer willing to continue tolerating this slavery and injustice.”

In addition, a group of students from different universities, including Ardabil University of Medical Sciences, Azad University (South Tehran Branch), Isfahan University, The University of Kurdistan, Faculty of Foreign Language and Literature at the University of Tehran, and a number of graduates of Tehran University of Arts supported nationwide protests in Iran by issuing separate statements.

A group of professors at the Ferdowsi University of Mashhad also issued a statement calling for an end to any violence. Similarly, 600 professors of Iran's universities and research institutes, in a statement supporting the student protests, demanded the cancellation of “all anti-civil rights decrees against the students” and the release of “all the people who were arrested during the recent protests.” 73 professors of Babol Noshirvani University of Technology (NIT), also, in a letter to the president of this university, demanded to stop issuing disciplinary orders to students. A group of Mazandaran University professors supported the nationwide protests in Iran by publishing a statement, too.

Moreover, in a letter to the president of their university, 2300 graduates of the Amirkabir University of Technology in Tehran announced their support for the protesting students and condemned the measures that have caused "the creation of a security atmosphere" in this university.

In addition, by publishing a statement, the Scientific Association of Political Sciences of Tabriz University announced that it will refrain from conducting any scientific activities and hold any educational classes until further notice. The association highlighted that such activities would give students hope that science is alive in this system and make them believe the lie and untruth.

More than 300 Christian-Iranian citizens inside the country also published a statement and announced their solidarity with the nationwide protests, condemning and announcing the suppression of protesting people by the Islamic Republic.

In response to the filtering and restrictions imposed on the Internet in Iran in the last few days, the Tehran E-Commerce Association has issued a statement criticizing these conditions and announced: "The interruption of access to Instagram in Iran has negatively affected more than 400,000 businesses, and the livelihood of more than one million people has faced serious problems.

Furthermore, the game and entertainment headquarters of Qom seminary, a number of doctors, dentists and pharmacists of Saqez city and 330 media activists reacted to the recent events in separate statements.

And more than 620 specialist doctors and specialists in fields related to pediatrics have signed a joint letter calling for an end to the Islamic Republic's violence against children and warned them regarding the consequences of the “incorrect behavior” with the country's children and adolescents.

HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS AND FIGURES

International human rights organizations reacted to Mahsa (Zhina) Amini's death. In this regard, we can refer to the statements of Amnesty International. The international organization described Mahsa Amini's death as a suspicious death and that "all agents and responsible officials" in this case should be brought to justice. In a petition, Amnesty International asked the United Nations to investigate the recent events in Iran, which are among the "most serious crimes" under international law, and utilize urgent action using the independent mechanism of the United Nations with the aim of forcing the Islamic Republic to hold accountable.

Human Rights Activists (in Iran), accompanied by 161 international and regional human rights organizations and women's rights defenders, announced their solidarity with the protesters in Iran by publishing a statement. Before that, Human Rights Activists (in Iran) and 12 other human rights organizations issued another statement calling for the international community's intervention to counter the oppression of women and protesters by the Iranian government. Also, Human Rights Activists (in Iran) with 19 human rights organizations, in a letter addressed to the President of the United States, Joe Biden, asked him to fulfill his promise to confront authoritarian and repression in Iran.

Furthermore, the Association for the Protection of Children's Rights issued a statement calling for an immediate end to any violence against children and declared its readiness to negotiate with the judicial authorities for the release of the arrested children.

In this regard, the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights profoundly expressed worry regarding the reports of the killing and detention of children during the protests in Iran. Ravina Shamdasani pointed out that "Under human rights treaties accepted by Iran, the Islamic Republic has an obligation to protect children's right to life under any circumstances, and to respect and protect their right to freedom of expression and peaceful protest." The United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) also criticized government violence against children in Iran, calling for an end to all types of abuse directed at children. "UNICEF also remains deeply concerned about continued raids and searches conducted in some schools. Schools must always be safe places for children," highlighted the international body.

On the other hand, Javaid Rehman, Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in Iran, condemned the compulsory hijab law in Iran “in the strongest tone.” Prior to that, Mr. Rehman considered the compulsory hijab as a sign of widespread violation of human rights in Iran and demanded the adoption of resolutions by the United Nations Human Rights Council condemning the mandatory hijab in Iran. Forty days after the death of Mahsa (Zhin) Amini, Javaid Rehman presented a report on the situation in Iran to the United Nations General Assembly. In a part of his report, he addressed the massive wave of nationwide protests with the participation of various social classes and groups following the death of Mahsa Amini.

The UN special rapporteur on human rights in Iran, referring to the death toll in nationwide protests, said: “Since the first days of the protests, top State officials had instructed security forces to violently repress people at any cost to human life. At no point did the Iranian authorities show any genuine willingness to engage in any discussion with demonstrators. Anyone taking part in the protests was quickly labelled as an “enemy to confront”, or a “terrorist,” and both the head of the judiciary and the President emphasized the need to act “without leniency” against protesters.” Mr. Rehman pointed out that “the government [of Iran] refuted the killings of children by security forces, claiming that they committed suicide.”

Linda Thomas-Greenfield, the American ambassador to the United Nations, after meeting with Javaid Rehman, said that she supports him for an independent investigation to identify the perpetrators of government violence against protesters in Iran.

In addition, acting UN High Commissioner for Human Rights Nada Al-Nashif expressed alarm at the death in custody of Mahsa Amini and the violent response by security forces to ensuing protests. And, UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres called for an impartial and effective investigation of the death of 22-year-old Mahsa Amini. “We are increasingly concerned about reports of rising fatalities, including women and children, related to the protests,” his spokesman Stephane Dujarric said in a statement.

Reporters without Borders also published an article stating that the country's authorities have prevented the news coverage of widespread protests following Mahsa Amini's death.

On the other hand, a group of United Nations experts called on the Iranian authorities to stop using the death penalty as a method of suppressing protests.

More than 600 Iranian and international human rights lawyers and prominent figures in a letter to the UN Secretary-General demanded that “an independent committee and an extraordinary meeting of the Human Rights Council on Iran be formed as a matter of urgency.”

Furthermore, in an open letter, a group of women leaders in business, politics, and the arts from over 14 countries called for the immediate expulsion of the Islamic Republic from the UN Commission on the Status of Women (CSW).

During the UN Human Rights Council’s 35th Special Session, the International Federation of Human Rights (FIDH) delivered an oral statement to demand the establishment of an independent international fact-finding mission to investigate the death of Mahsa Amini and the serious human rights violations committed by the Iranian authorities against protesters.

Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, the head of the World Health Organization also expressed concern about the high number of fatalities and injuries to protesters and other civilians in Iran and wrote (in a Tweet) that “It’s essential that unfettered access to health care is provided to those in need”.

Last but not the least, Narges Mohammadi, the imprisoned human rights activist, wrote a letter to the head of the United Nations Human Rights Council. She stated that the people of Iran want “democracy and freedom” and said: “I would say about today, about killing women. They kill women, but claiming that they committed suicide. They kill children, but claiming we did not do that”.

GOVERNMENTS, POLITICIANS, AND FOREIGN INSTITUTIONS

The US Secretary of State Antony Blinken, Robert Malley, Special Representative of the US Department of State, Jake Sullivan, US National Security Adviser, 21 US Congress Representatives, Nancy Pelosi, speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and French Ministry of Foreign Affairs also separately condemned the mandatory hijab laws in Iran. They demanded that the Iranian government allow the protesters to hold peaceful protests.

The European Union also said that the injuries inflicted on Mahsa Amini in police custody are unacceptable, and the perpetrators of this murder must be held accountable.

Canada's Prime Minister, Justin Trudeau, and Masud Gharahkhani, President of the Storting in Norway separately reacted to the suppression of popular protests in Iran.

Senator Adam Schiff, former US Secretary of State Hillary Clinton and Republican member of the US House of Representatives Michael McCaul spoke about oppression against women and injustice towards protesters.

Annalena Baerbock, Minister for Foreign Affairs of Germany, also described the attack on brave Iranian women as an attack on humanity and called for recognition of women's rights in Iran. And Mélanie Joly, Minister of Foreign Affairs of Canada, stated: "Canada is gravely concerned by potential further crackdowns and the use of additional force against civilians. We call on Iran to stop escalating tensions and to refrain from committing further acts of violence against its own population". "We salute the courage of the Iranian women who are peacefully protesting and we join them in sending the regime a very clear message: they must end all forms of persecution and violence against women," she added.

British Foreign Minister James Cleverly and Gabriel Boric, President of Chile, called for respect for people's protests and to end oppression against women.

Anonymous, a well-known hacktivist group, also came to the aid of Iranian protesters by organizing online to orchestrate cyber-attacks on Iranian officials and institutions and stated: "we will not keep the Iranian government alive on the internet."

In addition, Linda Thomas-Greenfield, who is the United States ambassador to the United Nations under President Joe Biden, while announcing her support for the courage of Iranian women in the nationwide protests, wrote in her Twitter account: To the women in Iran standing up for basic freedoms: we stand in solidarity with you. Your bravery is an inspiration to people all over the world".

Moreover, the government of Canada announced that it would sanction institutions and people responsible for violence against women in Iran, including the "Morality Police," which played a role in the death of Mahsa Amini. On the tenth day of the nationwide protests in Iran, Annalena Baerbock, Minister for Foreign Affairs of Germany, called for the imposition of sanctions against the authorities of the Islamic Republic for suppressing the protests.

In this regard, the French newspaper, Libération, devoted its first page to the protests of the Iranian people. In addition, the British newspaper The Times published a cartoon and wrote: This is the biggest demonstration against the hijab in modern history. The Guardian Weekly also announced its support by portraying female Iranian protesters on its cover.

By publishing a statement, the European Council called on the government of the Islamic Republic of Iran to immediately stop the "violent" suppression of the ongoing protests in the country and to guarantee citizens' access to the Internet and the free flow of information.

On the other hand, Hundreds of women in the Kurdish city of Qamishli in Northeast Syria demonstrated in solidarity with Iranian women to condemn the death of Mahsa Amini who was an Iranian Kurdish woman.

Ravina Shamdasani, Spokesperson for the UN High Commissioner for Human Rights, also expressed concern about the suppression of protests by the security apparatus of the Islamic Republic and the restrictions imposed on the use of communication lines, the Internet and social networks in Iran and stated: "we are extremely concerned by comments by some leaders vilifying protesters, and by the apparent unnecessary and disproportionate use of force against protesters. Firearms must never be used simply to disperse an assembly".

Ahmad Massoud, an Afghan politician, said in response to nationwide protests in Iran, "everything that happens in Iran, more difficult of it happens Afghanistan; however, both of them are a common pain in which they defend for their rights."

Rashid Farivar, an Iranian-born Swedish Politician and a Member of the Sweden Parliament, also announced his support for the protests in Iran by publishing a message.

U.S. State Department spokesperson Ned Price said on his Twitter account that "Iranian women should not be subject to arrest, let alone brutal beatings, for how they choose to dress. Iran's government should listen to those protesting Mahsa Amini's unconscionable death in police custody, not fire on them". He also stated that we condemn the violence, the brutality exhibited by Iran's security forces following Mahsa Amini's death and that it is incumbent on the international community to speak out.

The Former United States Secretary of State, Mike Pompeo, also stated on his Twitter that "After more than 40 years of tyranny, the proud Iranian people are standing up to their government's abuses. The American people stand with the people of Iran".

Edi Rama, Prime Minister of Albania, ended diplomatic ties with Iran in a video statement on September 7 and declared, "the Albanian government will consider restoring relations with Iran only when Iran is free."

In addition, the representative of France condemned the death of Mahsa Amini and the "brutal" suppression of protesters by the security apparatus of the Islamic Republic and said: "The only fault of Mahsa Amini was that she did not wear a headscarf correctly."

Josh Burns, the head of the Australian Labor Party Parliamentary Joint Committee on Human Rights, also reacted to the events in Iran. In addition, Isabelle Lonvis-Rome, the Minister for Gender Equality, Diversity and Equal Opportunities in the Borne government, and Roland Rescuer, representative of the Minister of Industry of France, participated in the Iranian diaspora protest, which was held in Paris on September 26th in support of Iran's demonstrations. By publishing a statement that criticized their colleagues in academic environments, dozens of feminist professors from universities around the world demanded to declare their solidarity with the Iranian protesters. They claimed that the protests of the Iranian people are a 'feminist revolution' whose clear demand is to end a religious regime."

Moreover, Jim Risch, the Republican Senator in the US stated that the protests indicate Iranians' desire for a free and peaceful country. He also added that the Biden administration's blind pursuit of a new nuclear deal will only empower the regime." Democratic Senator Bob Menendez also said in a message that Iranian protesters should know that we in the United States and all over the world see and praise their courage against the violent, oppressive and misogynistic regime of Iran.

Rick Scott, Chris Van Hollen, Mitt Romney, and Mike Rounds, four American Senators, Giorgia Meloni, a member of the Chamber of Deputies in Italy, and Peter Khalil, a Member of the Australian House of Representatives, are among other foreign political figures who have reacted to the recent events in Iran.

More importantly, Mélanie Joly, Minister of Foreign Affairs of Canada, announced the list of sanctions on 34 Iranian officials and entities about a week after Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau promised measures against the Islamic Republic. The list includes 25 individuals and 9 entities such as Mohammed-Hossein Bagheri, Major General in the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps (IRGC) and the Chief of Staff of Iran's Armed Forces; Major General Hossein Salami, Commander-in-Chief of the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps (IRGC); Esmail Qaani, Commander of the Quds Force of the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps; Seyyed Mohammed Saleh Hashemi Golpayegani, Secretary of Iran's Headquarters for the Office of Enjoining Right and Forbidding Evil; Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps' (IRGC) Cyber Defense Command; Evin Prison, which houses political prisoners; Iran's Morality Police, and Mohammad Rostami Cheshmeh Gachi, Head of the Morality Police; Esmail Khatib, Minister of Intelligence and Security and the Ministry of Intelligence and Security (MOIS).

Similarly, the German magazine Der Spiegel reported that six member states of the European Union, including Germany, France, Denmark, Spain, Italy and the Czech Republic, have submitted 16 proposals for new European Union sanctions against Iran for its violent crackdown on protests over women's rights.

Austria supports “together with our European partners,” Germany, France, Denmark, Italy, Spain and Czechia, the extension of sanctions against those responsible for human rights violations in Iran, the foreign ministry said. “The Federal Government is called upon to work to prevent and combat violence against women, including sexual and gender-based violence, and to address relevant individual cases such as the case of Mahsa Amini, also at the bilateral level,” said the for Foreign Affairs human rights spokesperson in Austria, Ewa Ernst-Dziedzic, on 30 September.

Furthermore, in a statement, the President of the United States, Joe Biden, stated that "for decades, Iran's regime has denied fundamental freedoms to its people and suppressed the aspirations of successive generations through intimidation, coercion, and violence. The United States stands with Iranian women and all the citizens of Iran who are inspiring the world with their bravery". He added that "the United States is making it easier for Iranians to access the Internet, including through facilitating greater access to secure, outside platforms and services. The United States is also holding accountable Iranian officials and entities, such as the Morality Police, that are responsible for employing violence to suppress civil society".

Wendy Ruth Sherman, United States Deputy Secretary of State, shared President Biden's statement on her Twitter account and added: "the United States remains deeply concerned about the intensifying violent crackdown on peaceful protesters in Iran. We stand with the Iranian people and will continue supporting their right to protest freely".

Karine Jean-Pierre, White House Press Secretary, also announced the US government's "concern and disgust" over the suppression of protesting Iranian students after the death of 22-year-old Mahsa Amini. She told the press that university students in Iran are "rightly enraged" by Mahsa Amini's death and that the recent crackdowns in the Sharif University are the type of events that prompt young people in Iran to leave the country "and seek dignity and opportunity elsewhere."

More so, Roberta Metsola, President of the European Parliament, supported the protests of Iranian women and stated that "Women. Life. Liberty." [aka Woman, Life, Freedom] Three words that have become a rallying cry for all those standing up for equality, dignity and freedom in Iran".

By releasing a statement, the Swedish Trade Union Confederation also declared that we are "deeply concerned by the death of Mahsa Amini after she suffered injuries while in police custody. The Iranian regime must respect and ensure the fundamental rights of Iran's citizens and that those who are under any form of detention are not subject to violence and mistreatment."

Moreover, United States Secretary of State Antony Blinken stated his concern regarding the bloody crackdown in Mahabad: "Iranian authorities are reportedly escalating violence against protesters, particularly in the city of Mahabad." "We continue to pursue accountability for those involved, as we support the Iranian people," Blinken wrote on Twitter.

In addition, a Swedish member of the European Parliament lopped off her hair during a speech in the European Union assembly in solidarity with anti-government demonstrations in Iran.

Josep Borrell, The European Union foreign policy chief, also declared that the EU slapped additional sanctions on Iran, targeting 29 individuals and three organizations, in response to what it has condemned as Tehran's widespread use of force against peaceful protesters. "We stand with the Iranian people and support their right to protest peacefully and voice their demands and views freely," Josep Borrell stated in a statement.

Olaf Scholz, Chancellor of Germany, strongly criticized Iran's brutal crackdown on protests triggered by the death of Mahsa Amini while expressing support for a new round of European Union sanctions against Tehran." We want to continue to step up the pressure on the Revolutionary Guards Corps and the political leadership," Scholz said in a video posted on Twitter on November 12.

Lastly noted, French President Emmanuel Macron characterized the protests in Iran as a "revolution."

NON-IRANIAN POPULAR FIGURES

Noam Chomsky, the American linguist and philosopher, condemned the death of 22-year-old Mahsa Amini by publishing a video message. Chomsky stated that: "One Crime, Too Many." Slavoj Zizek, the Slovenian philosopher, also sent a video message of solidarity to the Iranians protesting Mahsa Amini's death. He also wrote on his Instagram account that: "we don't need female figureheads or Woman Kings; we need women who mobilize us all for 'woman, life, freedom' and against hate, violence, and fundamentalism." Canadian poet and writer Margaret Atwood (best known for The Handmaid's Tale) also stated that "Mahsa Amini's brutal death may be moment of reckoning for Iran."

Dozens of philosophers and intellectuals in France, including Alain Badiou, Etienne Balibar and Thomas Piketty, also supported the current protests in Iran and their central slogan "Woman, Life, Freedom" by publishing a message in the Liberation magazine. They wrote: "The current situation in Iran following the killing of Mahsa Amini by the Morality Police requires the widest international support for protesters and the condemnation of the Islamic regime of Iran."

AGAINST PROTESTS: PUBLIC FIGURES, GOVERNMENT, AND MILITARY ORGANIZATIONS

On September 17th, Mehdi Ramezani, the deputy governor of Kurdistan, reported that only “a few people who had thrown stones in front of the governorate of this city” were injured and claimed that “no one has been killed” during the protests in Sanandaj and Saqqez over the past two days. Nevertheless, he confirmed the arrest of several protesters.

In the early days of the ongoing protests in Iran, the President of the Islamic Republic of Iran, Ebrahim Raisi, only stated that there is a difference between “protests” and “riots.”

Later, Nasser Kanani, the spokesman of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Islamic Republic, referring to the telephone call of Ebrahim Raisi with the family of Mahsa Amini, said: “We are defenders of women's rights in the Islamic Republic, and women's human rights are among our values, and the Islamic Republic is a model and example in the field of women's rights.”

Ebrahim Raisi, in his more recent messages regarding the recent events, claimed that the protesters “would like to create chaos, have come to the streets and falsely claim that they are grieving for a girl whom just had a young death.”

Similarly, Mohammad Sadegh Kooshki, a fundamentalist political activist, said regarding the protests that “they want to promote chaos, they have come to the streets and falsely claim that they are grieving a girl who died young”.

Also, Mohammad Reza Naqdi, the deputy coordinator of the IRGC, said: “the enemy’s media empire has used the death of a woman as an excuse for their propaganda. Mahsa Amini's death was accidental.”

Gilan deputy police Chief Hossein Hassanpour, while calling the protesters ‘rioters’, also stated: “If the protests continue in Rasht city; the police will use other legal tactics at their disposal.”

Moreover, Ahmad Khatami, Tehran’s Friday Prayer Imam also said: “Those who have eaten the bread of the system have joined the rioters.”

Hossein Rahimi, the head of the Tehran police, defended the performance of the police force and said: “The police have a duty to warn those who do not comply with the necessary regulations.”

In this regard, the Army of the Islamic Republic of Iran issued a statement and stated: “We strongly condemn any destruction of public property, disturbance in the security of the people and the country, and any attack on security personnel.” Also, in a statement, the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps (IRGC) considered the actions of the country's police command as the guarantor of the authority and security of the system and the Islamic Republic. The General Staff of the Armed Forces of the Islamic Republic of Iran also published a similar statement; “The armed forces will not allow the current security and peace to be compromised.”

Gholam-Hossein Mohseni-Eje'i, the head of the Judiciary, called the protesting citizens “rioters” and asked the prosecutors all over the country to “accelerate” the processing of the cases of the arrested protesters.

Judiciary spokesman Masoud Setayeshi also said: “The confrontation of the judicial system with those who were the main culprits in the recent events in the country will be deterrent and serve as an example.”

Furthermore, Behzad Rahimi, the representative of Saez and Baneh in the Islamic Consultative Assembly called the arrest of protesters a preventive measure. Ruhollah Salgi, the political security deputy of the governor of Mazandaran, announced that 76 police and Basij agents were injured in this province during the protests.

On the other hand, in response to criticism of the human rights situation in Iran and the suppression of protesters, Nasser Kanani, the spokesman of the Iranian Ministry of Foreign Affairs, claimed: “Human rights perpetrators do not deserve to comment on human rights.” Earlier, Issa Zarepour, the Minister of Communications, and Information Technology, considered the Internet restrictions to be due to security issues. Regarding the WhatsApp and Instagram filter, he highlighted that: “In the current situation and until an unknown time, the filter of some social networks such as WhatsApp and Instagram will continue to be in place.” Jafar Mohammadi, a member of the board of directors of the Nasr Organization in Tehran, also said earlier: “All the start-ups that expressed their condolences on the death of Mahsa Amini in various posts on the social network have been ordered to delete these posts.” In addition, Lotfollah Siahkali, the representative of Qazvin in the Islamic Consultative Assembly, while confirming the internet shut down in Iran, said: “As long as the streets are busy, we will see disruptions and restrictions of the internet and social networks.”

In a report, Tasnim news agency announced that Mehran Modiri was “banned from leaving the country” and claimed: “He has already left the country.”

A Hamshahri newspaper report wrote on behalf of Gholam-Hossein Mohseni-Eje'i, the head of the Judiciary, addressing the artists and celebrities supporting the demands of the protesting people: “Those who echoed enemies’ voice, should know they will have to pay for the material and spiritual damage caused to the people and the country. Those who encouraged and supported [protests] are guilty and their wrongdoings will be dealt with.”

Moreover, in a report, Mehr News Agency announced that there are public accusations and arrest warrants against a number of former IRIB actors and hosts.

Mohsen Mansouri, the governor of Tehran, also threatened the celebrities who supported the protesting people during the nationwide protests and said: “We will deal with the celebrities who fanned the flames of 'riots'.”

In a visit to the Greater Tehran Prison, Mohammad Jafar Montazeri, the Attorney General of the country, claimed in regard to the detainees of the nationwide protests: “During this visit, it was emphasized to speed up the handling of the affairs of the detainees and the condition of detention of the detainees is favorable.”

Ensiyeh Khazali, the vice president for women's affairs, stated that the principle of hijab and modesty is cultural building, and claimed: “we do not have a physical confrontation with the issue of hijab, and we hope that hijab will return to its path.”

Also, Kurdistan Governor Ismail Zarei Koosha, while calling the popular protests in Kurdistan ‘riots’, claimed: “in Kurdistan province, less than three percent of the protesters were arrested.”

Hamid Maleki, the deputy director of seminaries (Hozeh), claimed that Mahsa Amini's death while in custody was a ‘natural death’ and claimed: “they make a ‘natural death’ that occurs all over the world an excuse to hold riots.”

In addition, Hekmat Ali Mozaffari, the head of the Administrative Court of Justice, said in response to the protests against Mahsa Amini's death: “people should not be deceived by deviant movements, and for this reason, the principles of the regime should not be targeted.”

In a statement, Dezful's Friday Prayer Imam said that "if his majesty allows us, we will end the riots in an hour" and Iran's Foreign Minister claimed that "the United States is working with the rioters in the implementation of the 'insecurity project' in Iran."

While standing among the Special Units responsible for suppressing the protest in recent days, Hossein Ashtari, the Commander-in-Chief of the Islamic Republic of Iran, called the way to deal with the nationwide uprising of the people "the bright path" and said: "Don't doubt for a bit, our path is the right path."

The prosecutor of Tehran also said about the recent incidents: "those who want to disrupt the great achievement of peace and security of the people will face a harsh and decisive action by the judicial system."

At the same time, the Minister of the Interior asked the judicial system to "deal decisively, quickly and punitively with the leaders of the recent events." Ali Alghasi-Mehr, Chief Justice of Tehran Province, also said: "Special branches for dealing with crimes against public security have been established in Tehran's General and Revolutionary Prosecutor's Office, Revolutionary Court and Court of Appeal."

The President of the Supreme Court, Mortazavi Moghadam, declared: "The people who committed these atrocities with hot and cold weapons during the recent riots are "real Moharebs [those who wage war against god or people]". Ali Moalemi, Qaemshahr's Friday Prayer Imam, also called "burning a scarf extremely indecent."

Hossein Rajabi, the prosecutor of Qazvin, stated that the judicial system will deal with the people who were active in the gatherings in a decisive, uncompromising and deterrent manner, and said: "The faces that encouraged people in the cyberspace to continue subversive actions are under surveillance and legal action will be taken against them."

Ahmad Khatami, a member of the Board of Experts, said: "From the beginning, the police said that there was absolutely no beating of Mahsa Amini. What the police did about Mahsa Amini was according to the law and they followed the law, and the story of Mahsa Amini became an excuse for the oppositionists of the regime."

Later, Hasan Karami, the commander of the special unit of the police, described the anti-government protesters as “rioters” and “thugs” and said that if they come back to the scene, “we are ready to bring the situation under our control within four to five days.”

Moreover, in an interview with Al-Monitor, Hossein Amir-Abdollahian, the foreign minister of the Islamic Republic, made the suppression of popular protests a natural thing and claimed: “We must respond to the riots in a powerful and formidable way, and there is a complete democracy in Iran; Come and see for yourself.”

The Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Islamic Republic of Iran, in an interview with NPR National Radio, said that “Iran is not a place where anyone can stage a color coup or a revolution”, he said: “In Iran, we pay attention to the demands of the people, but with Those who want to riot and be influenced by foreign countries, we will act according to our laws.”

Sadegh Hosseini, the commander of the Kurdistan Revolutionary Guards Corps, also stated that “the regime did all it could for Mahsa Amini’s case” and claimed: “Those who claim to care about Mahsa Amini were happy about the death of this lady.”

More so, Fars News Agency claimed that “most of the protesters are under 18 years of age, they are violent, have no religious campus, they believe in the ultimate freedom of relations with the opposite sex, have weak family ties, they have no economic concerns, and they carry pocketknives and pepper spray.”

On September 26th, Ali Mirahmadi, deputy police chief of Semnan province, announced the arrest of 155 protesters in this province and said: “26 of them were women and 124 were men.” The Ministry of Intelligence of the Islamic Republic of Iran published a statement on Friday, September 30, announcing the arrest of more than 265 protesters during the nationwide protests, including 9 people with citizenship of foreign countries, widespread summonses and opening new cases for some other protesters.

IRIB also published an interview with a person who is said to be the father of Hadis Najafi and claimed: “The police did not kill my daughter. The BBC is lying. And No one can force me to speak against my will.” Prior to this, a video of Hadis Najafi's mother was published stating that her daughter died by three bullets and after the death of her daughter, her family was under pressure from the security forces, and Hadith Najafi's sister also published an article on the social media, stating “On the day Hadith's body was handed over, his father was beaten, and they summon him to the court every day.” It is worth noting that since then, this strategy has become a norm on the IRIB’s regular agenda, and they have published several interviews with other people who are said to be the family members of the killed protesters to be claimed they were not killed by the police.

In addition, a number of news channels that are close to the security institutions have published a video of the forced confessions of a number of citizens who are alleged to be protesters in provinces such as Gilan and Isfahan.

The Attorney General of the country issued a statement to the public and revolutionary prosecutors of the country regarding the handling of the protestors' case and announced: “The leaders and subordinates of the recent events should be detained until the court is held. In the court, severe punishment, and the issuance of restraining orders without discounts should be requested for them, in the case of detained students, a decision should be made with the opinion of the security guard and the university president, and the students who have played a role in disrupting public security should be temporarily detained; Other students should be released on bail.”

It should be noted that with the announcement of this statement, Ebrahim Hamidi, the Chief Justice of Kerman Province, and Hosseini, the Chief Justice of Kurdistan Province, announced the arrest and imprisonment of some protesters and the issuing and execution of sentences for these people, and Kazem Mousavi, the Chief Justice and The prosecutor of Fars province’s capital also said regarding the arrestees of nationwide protests: “The arrestees of the recent events will be detained until the end of the judicial investigation.”

The Guardian Council announced in a statement: “It expects the judicial system to deal decisively with the main perpetrators and causes of killing and injuring innocent people and security guards, as well as those who attack people and destroy public and private property.”

Furthermore, Mohammad-Bagher Ghalibaf claimed: “Unfortunately, we are busy with those who have not endured even a single slap for the revolution, they have not suffered, and they have not done anything, and they have only cheered while we have emptied the square and pulled away.”

A group of representatives of the Islamic Council issued a statement in response to nationwide protests in Iran, condemning “insulting the sanctity of the people, including women's Hijab” and claiming: “We are trying to eliminate the grounds for breaking moral norms and obscenity and create an atmosphere to provide suitable culture for the Iranian nation.”

In a statement, the command of Iran's police force called the protesters ‘rioters’ and ‘enemies of the government’ who “seek to disrupt the order, security and comfort of the nation under any pretext and tactic.” He also announced that “law enforcement officers of the country will stand until the last moment”. In this regard, Ghasem Rezaei, the Deputy Commander of the Police Force of the Islamic Republic of Iran, claimed: “The police force is of the people and for the people, and we will not allow mercenaries and rioters to have a chance.”

More importantly, 233 members of the parliament issued a statement demanding severe punishment for the protesters.

On Thursday, September 29, Mohsen Mansouri, the governor of Tehran, said: “We may not deal with the protesters for any reason in the midst of riots, but anyone who has played a leading role in the recent riots should know that we will definitely deal with them in whatever hole they are hiding in.” In addition, Abedin Khorrami, the governor of East Azerbaijan, claimed: “Today, the war is the war of virtual space and media. A few people, about 150 people, who have entered the field, is the product of years of efforts, propaganda, and psychological operations that the enemy has carried out.”

In addition, Hossein Salami, the Commander-in-Chief of the IRGC, has threatened that “taking revenge for the blood of the martyrs of Zahedan's Black Friday crime is on our agenda.”

Also, the heads of the three powers of the Islamic Republic have discussed the protests of the last two weeks at the presidential headquarters of Iran. In this meeting, they have appreciated the role of government agencies in ‘combating riots’, and also, the heads of the executive, legislative and judicial branches emphasized “the necessity of recognizing and explaining the conspiracies of anti-Iranians and enemies of the Islamic Revolution from the media and elites.” They also said “they appreciate the honorable people of the country who have thwarted the complex and multi-layered planning of the enemies to create a crisis in the country with their insight, timing and smart demarcation.”

In addition, the IRGC Intelligence Organization published a message and wrote: “Undoubtedly, the children of the proud nation of Islamic Iran will avenge the pure blood of the oppressed martyrs of Zahedan on Dark Friday from the enemies, and the cowardly attacks of the armed opponents will not go unanswered. and by God's grace, they will wipe out the blind and cruel movements of the enemies.”

Also, Iran Newspaper, in an article entitled “Separatists are busy”, analyzed the direct shooting at the worshipers on Friday in Zahedan and wrote: "Some regions of the country, such as Sistan and Baluchistan region, due to the geopolitical situation and also Special cultural, ethnic, economic and social characteristics have always been exposed to a large amount of terrorist attacks.

On Monday, October 3rd, the Supreme Leader of the Islamic Republic of Iran said at Police University regarding the death of Mahsa Amini and the nationwide protests in Iran: “A young girl died, which broke our hearts, but the reaction to this incident without investigation and without knowing the facts and its truth, Let some people come to make the streets unsafe, burn the Quran, remove the Hijab from the head of a veiled woman, set fire to the mosque, Hosseiniyeh, and people's cars, it was not a normal and natural reaction.”

On Tuesday, October 4th, Ebrahim Raisi, while attending the Islamic Council, emphasized Ali Khamenei's statements the previous day and said: “In his speech, the Supreme Leader of the Islamic Revolution presented a comprehensive analysis of the recent events and the reason for sedition against the country. And they brought up the revolution, which was understandable to everyone, and the reason for the enemy's anger towards our country and nation is that they see that we are progressing despite the threats and sanctions. He ignores the sanctions and obstacles, yes, but he tries to remove the sanctions, but at the same time, he tries to neutralize the sanctions.”

Mohammad-Bagher Ghalibaf, Speaker of the Parliament, welcomed Ali Khamenei's statements and said: “Enlightened statements were made in a sensitive situation and he made very wise, intelligent and precise words and once again defined the demarcation between the people and rioters.”

Ahmad Vahidi, the Minister of Interior, stated that today's enemy's war is a war of values, and claimed: Those who created slogans such as women, life, freedom; They created the most heinous scenes to defend women and see freedom in women's nakedness and shamelessness.

On the other hand, Ismail Zarei Kosha, the governor of Kurdistan, in response to the nationwide protests and boycott of classrooms, called for a "decisive approach" to teachers and professors who do not attend classes.
